PRAYER FOR SON. Mrs. Thomas Potts of Carolina Ave., Chester, mother of Sgt. George Smith, one of two prisoners reported by the Viet Cong to be freed over the weekend, prays for his safety. Mrs. Potts said she has faith her son will be returned.

More Evidence Piles Up

Confirmation Is Sought On Chester GI's Release

New evidence continued to pile up today that the Communist Viet Cong has made good on its promise to release Sgt. George E. Smith, 27, of Chester, who has been their prisoner for more than two years.

But his mother, Mrs. Lucille Potts of 225 Carolina Ave., continued to await official U.S. confirmation of radio reports broadcast in Southeast Asia Saturday that Sgt. Smith will be permitted to return to the free world from the limbo of a Viet Cong prisoner of war camp.

She continued to hope against hope that the series of broadcasts was not a communist propaganda trick, but a genuine report on the release of the Special Forces soldier captured in Viet Nam on Nov. 24, 1963.

The first announcement came from a Viet Cong clandestine radio, saying that Sgt. Smith and a companion were to be released. It quickly spread throughout the U. S. while the soldier's mother awaited confirmation.

The broadcast said the other prisoner is Spcl. 5C Claude Donald McClure, whose wife, Mrs. Rita J. McClure, resides in Chattanooga, Tenn.

RADIO CAMBODIA today appeared to confirm the release. It said in a broadcast that the two American soldiers turned up at its border, seeking transit visas to cross Cambodia in their return to U. S.-held territory. The broadcast said the visas had been granted.

But in Saigon, official U. S. sources said today there still has been no confirmation that the men have been freed. One Saigon broadcast said the men were scheduled for release. A second said they already had been released.

The Hanoi announcement said: "Although they were guilty vis-a-vis our population, their crimes were not the most grave and during their detention they showed that they became aware of it."

"It will be an all - out Christmas for us if George gets home," Mrs. Potts said Saturday afternoon after learning of the unconfirmed radio report. "I was so happy and excited I cried. I have been praying to God for his release."

Mrs. Potts first heard of the reported release of her son in a telephone call from a friend, who had listed to a network radio newcast telling of the Viet Cong announcement. The Chester woman immediately telephoned her husband, who was at work in his music store in East Liverpool.

McNamara Vows U. S. Will Fill Viet War Need

South Viet Suffers Severe Losses In Plantation Assault

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ended his visit to Viet Nam today by declaring that the United States would throw in as many fighting men as needed to wage the war against the Communists.

McNamara told newsmen at Saigon airport after his 1½-day factfinding tour that his most dramatic impression is that "we have stopped losing the war."

He added that the increased ferocity of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese attacks in recent weeks indicated "a clear decision by Hanoi to escalate infiltration and raise the level of the conflict."

He said these acts must be countered, adding: "The South Vietnamese government will further increase its military strength."

On the eve of McNamara's arrival, four Viet Cong battalions with North Vietnamese support troops handed the South Vietnamese one of their worst setbacks of the war. In an attack on troops holding an abandoned rubber plantation 45 miles northwest of Saigon, the Communists knocked out an entire government regiment as an effective fighting force. American advisers also perished.

It was feared the casualties, when finally totaled, might be the highest of the war to date.

McNamara declined to speculate on the total U.S. forces that will be required but his comments heightened speculation that he will advise President Johnson to increase American ground forces in Viet Nam from 165,000 to 300,000 men and step up air attacks on the North Vietnamese jungle supply routes.

Before heading back to Washington, McNamara made a quick trip to U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division headquarters, in the central highlands 260 miles north of Saigon. He met some of the men who fought the Communists in the bitter Ia Drang Valley battle two weeks ago and flew over the battle scene.

McNamara received first-hand briefings on the Ia Drang

Recollections Of European Trip

Grimness Of People In East Berlin Stands Out In Starkey's Memory

By BYRON EELLS

Will East Liverpool receive any direct benefits from the business contacts made by the Ohio Trade Mission in its three-week European tour?

"Frankly, no," said Gordon E. Starkey, president of the Potters Bank & Trust Co., who was one of 56 business and industrial leaders who participated in the state's first "exploratory and educational" mission at their own cost.

But Ohio is expected to receive big dividends in millions of dollars in new export business as the result of the 1,021 personal business calls made by members of the mission as part of Gov. James A. Rhodes' campaign to boost the state from third to first place in foreign exports.

BESIDES THE anticipated increase in exports, 12 European firms, most of whom already have substantial sales in the United States, expressed definite interest in locating plants in Ohio, which would create additional jobs and add to paytolls, Starkey said.

The banker explained that most European countries manufacture dinnerware and can produce it cheaper than it can be made in area potteries and shipped.

More than 1,000 European businessmen sat in on conferences where Ohioans explained the advantages of Ohio's business, industrial and tourist climate. To help promote tourism in Ohio, major travel agents in seven countries were contacted, Starkey added.

One of four Ohio bankers on the mission, Starkey visited chiefly financial institutions to learn their procedores as an aid to manufacturers who export products. The banks he visited deal chiefly in import, export and exchange.

THE EUROPEAN financial institutions would not be familiar to Ohioans as banks, Starkey explained, pointing out there are as many as seven different banks depending on the type of business they conduct and the loans they make.

Of his own observations, Starkey commented that Europe presented marked contracts between the very modern and the very old and between wealth and poverty.

"Prices are high; there is nothing cheap in Europe," the bank president said, adding that wages are low and there is a

Ministers Approve Structure Changes After Warm Debate

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The Inter-American Foreign Ministers' Conference turns to economics today after a wrangle over peace keeping divided the 19 ministers.

Meeting far into Sunday night, the ministers approved the "Act of Rio de Janeiro" recommending sweeping changes in the structure of the 17-year-old Organization of American States after heated debate and involved parliamentary maneuvering.

The ministers' recommendations included:

—A call for a new conference next July to amend the OAS charter;

—Provision for annual inter-American conferences under the amended charter, and —Creation of three councils of equal status to serve as the organization's political, social and economic, and educational and cultural arms.

Scientists Propose Agreement

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was advised today to seek international agreement on "a code for human activity on the moon" to prevent the earth satellite from becoming a military base for any nation.

The proposal for a moon code, made by a citizens committee of scientists, space experts and educators, was one of several put before a White House Conference on International Cooperation opening here today.

Another panel proposed that the United States undertake a three-year program costing up to $100 million a year to help other nations develop and carry out birth control programs to check population expansion.

In a related proposal, another group said world food production must be tripled by the year 2000 to feed an expected seven billion people on earth. It urged the United States to assist other countries in increasing food production as rapidly as possible.

In proposing a moon pact, the committee took note of the space race between the United States and the Soviet Union and said that "with multiple manned landings on the moon in prospect within the next several years," rules for its use could be negotiated through the United Nations Committee for Peaceful Uses of Outer Space.

Essential provisions of such a treaty, the committee said, would be "suspension of sovereignty claims, free access by all for scientific purposes, exclusion of military maneuvers and weaponry and a verification procedure."

"Such a convention," the committee report said, "would give substance to the principle, already adopted by the U.N. General Assembly, that celestial bodies are not subject to national appropriation. It would become, in effect, a code for human activity on the moon."

In a speech prepared for the opening session, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the conference, composed of some 5,000 distinguished Americans, that in the search for world peace and international cooperation "we need big blueprints and ideas."

Johnson Set To Act Upon Money Rates

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson hopes to bring pressure to bear against what he believes are unjustified profits being rung up by the nation's lenders from overly high interest rates.

If he has found no way to curb the money changers in his temple of economic stability, the President is ready to give them a hard time about the mounting interest rates they are charging the government when it is forced, as it is continually, to borrow more and more money.

His first move in the direction of easier money could come in the naming of a new member to replace C. Canby Balderston, expected to retire about Jan. 1 from the Federal Reserve Board of Governors.

However, William McChesney Martin, the Federal Reserve Board chairman whom critics have blamed for high interest rates, still has more than four years to go on his present 14-

Parley Scheduled Between Gromyko, Stewart At Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart arrived in Moscow today for talks with Soviet leaders on Viet Nam and the nonproliferation of nuclear weapons.

Pravda said it hoped Stewart's four-day visit would contribute "to the normalization of the international situation." British sources here held little hope of major results.

Accompanied by Lord Chalfont, Britain's minister for disarmament, Stewart was scheduled to meet with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko Tuesday. Stewart also was expected to meet with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Communist party Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev.

The result of the talks will be a main topic when British Prime Minister Harold Wilson meets with President Johnson in the United States next month.

Observers said Stewart would try to get a clearer idea of the Soviet price for a treaty to stop the spread of nuclear arms. The Soviets have said no agreement is possible unless the United States abandons its proposal for a multilateral nuclear force for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The Soviet Union maintains this would give West Germany access to nuclear arms.

Hancock Slash In Budget Greatest In West Virginia

NEW CUMBERLAND — Only seven counties in West Virginia reduced their budgets during the 1964-65 term and Hancock County had the biggest slash, according to records compiled by State Tax Commissioner G. Thomas Battle at Charleston.

The budget reduction was achieved by Commissioners James Finley of Weirton, president, William C. Graham of Chester and Jack Evans of New Cumberland.

THE DRIVE to economize, streamline and consolidate was led by Evans, who was elected last year to a six-year term from Clay District.

He has paced the fight to eliminate extravagant expense accounts, has demanded greater efficiency from departments and has opposed needless extra appointments.

Commenting on the state tax commissioner's report, Evans said:

"I will continue to advocate additional economies for the 1965-66 budget. We don't have to use the maximum levies allowed us by law. I don't believe in spending for spending's sake.

"Property owners are going to get another 5 per cent jolt next year in their property assessments to bring the figure to 50 per cent of the market value as required by state law.

"I don't believe we should spend this additional revenue just because it is available to us. I think we should keep our budget as low as possible without impairment of good government — and pass the savings on to the taxpayer."

THE STATE tax commissioner's report showed that the Hancock County commissioners budgeted $664,647 for this fiscal year, a decrease of $31,641, or 4.52 per cent from last year.

Rural District Gets Brunt Of Snow, Winds

Rural and suburban districts outside the sheltered Ohio Valley bore the brunt of the first real taste of winter that moved into the Tri-State District over the weekend, with light snow flurries lashed by high winds.

Although the fall was only a tiny fraction of an inch, the fresh snow and low temperatures made some streets and highways slippery. City street department crews were called out for the first time this season to scatter ashes on slick grades.

Lawns, highway berms and parking lots still bore traces of the light snow early this morning, but traffic arteries were clear. It was the first snowfall of the new season that remained unmelted for any appreciable length of time.

The high winds, roaring intermittently in strong gusts, gave extra bite to the chill. The mercury hit 23 at 5 a. m. today in downtown East Liverpool. It stood at 18 at the same time in the suburbs.

The Ohio forecaster said more snow flurries and cold weather are due tonight.

The forecast calls for snow flurries and colder tonight, with a low ranging between 15 and 20.

Experts See No Delay In Gemini Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The space agency said today that an electrical problem with a spacecraft power unit was not expected to delay Saturday's Gemini 7 launching.

A spokesman made the statement after engineers wrestled through the night with the trouble. First they installed a new power unit in the spacecraft, discovered it probably would cause the same difficulty, yanked it out and replaced it with the original unit.

"The problem is not completely solved at this time," the spokesman said. "Evaluation is continuing. But the situation looks good and we don't expect it will delay the launching."

Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. are to ride Gemini 7 into space for a 14-day endurance mission. Nine days later, Gemini 6 astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford are to take off in an attempt to rendezvous within a few feet of Gemini 7.

Sweeney Will Get Bid For Governor's Race

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, said today he and Ohio county chairmen will confer Tuesday at Cleveland with Rep. Robert Sweeney, congressman-at-large, asking him to be a party candidate for governor in the May primaries.

Sweeney, a resident of Bay Village, now is in his first term. Disclosing plans today for the conference, Gosney said: "I think he would be a good candidate."

fighting, praised the division's achievements and said: "Without question there will be other air cavalry divisions formed."

The air cavalry's 16,000 men rely on the division's more than 450 helicopters for speedy transport into combat.

No significant ground action was reported today, but U.S. Air Force and Navy planes hammered Communist targets from the tip of South Viet Nam to north of Hanoi. A spokesman said they knocked out railroads and supply installations.

A Communist regiment that wiped out a South Vietnamese regiment on an abandoned rubber plantation Saturday 45 miles northwest of Saigon apparently disappeared without a trace Searching Vietnamese and American troops failed to make contact with the Communist force Sunday or today.

The Communists captured another American Sunday, the pilot of a Navy F8 Crusader shot down over North Viet Nam about 15 miles north of Thanh Hoa on an armed reconnaissance mission. The pilot ejected and was seen landing in an open field near a small village.

Search-and-rescue aircraft failed to find him, and he was presumed to have been captured. Another Crusader was shot down in the same area earlier Sunday. But the pilot was rescued.

An Air Force F4C went down near Pleiku, in South Viet Nam's central highlands, apparently because of Viet Cong gunners. The two crewmen ejected and were picked up.

Other Air Force planes and Vietnamese Skyraiders splashed heavy bombs and machine-gun fire on a large Viet Cong force in Tay Ninh Province northwest of Saigon, the spokesman said.

Six Air Force F100 Supersabre jets hit three Viet Cong companies camped in Kien Hoa province, 75 miles south of Saigon, with bombs and rockets, the spokesman reported.

A Letter From The Front

". . .A lot of men are dying over here and it gets sadder every day. However, it is necessary that we show the Commies that we can meet them on their terms and beat them or else we will be fighting them in a lot of other places later on."

The words are those of Lt. L. E. Wagoner, now a resident of Las Vegas, Nev., but a native of Wellsville who attended Wellsville schools. He is a grandson of Mrs. Beth Wagoner of East Liverpool and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Perry of Wellsville.

Lt. Wagoner was wounded in Viet Nam and spent several weeks in a hospital at Yokosuka, Japan.

His observations sum up the situation well—getting sadder every day but necessary or "We will be fighting them in a lot of other places later on."

Those who have been protesting our involvement in Viet Nam would do well to ponder the meaning of Lt. Wagoner's thoughts carefully. As heart - breaking and frustrating as matters may be in far off Asia, it's always well to remember they would be even more heart-breaking were the fighting closer to home or on American soil itself.

Here are more pertinent comments from the lieutenant in his latest letter to his grandparents: ". . .A greater participation by the American people is what is needed now. They should get behind these men and show them that they care if they live or die.

"More than 30 Marines died in combat during a two - day period last week in the Da Nang area. It might seem to be a screwy war, but it is a war just the same. The sooner people at home realize this the better off everyone is going to be.

"Don't let anyone say American youths have gone to pot and are nothing but a bunch of weaklings. I have seen too many of them turn into men who are every bit as strong and capable as American men ever were. I am proud to be serving with them. The only problem is that they are here dying and the minority which has always given everyone the wrong impression about American youth is at home dodging the draft.

". . .I have never appreciated America more than I do now."

Watch Yourself!

The holiday season is not only the time for good will, but it's also the time for thievery in various forms.

Take Saturday's local police report as an example: A purse containing $80 in cash and a check were stolen from a parked car, a business establishment was broken into and an apartment ransacked.

Crowds, the hustle and bustle of shopping and the sheer excitement that goes with the season will combine in favor of the would-be thief.

Be extra cautious from now until Christmas. Carelessness could put a damper on what otherwise should be a merry, merry time of year.

The Right To Have Counsel

While the U.S. Supreme Court is threading its way through the tangle over a suspect's right to have a lawyer's advice from the time of arrest on through all other proceedings, the lay public would do well to thread its way through the problem this can make for the police.

It is not always kept in clear focus that among the rights which need to be protected in this country are the rights of policemen to do their job.

Police departments know the automatic result of giving a suspect a lawyer from the time he is brought into the police station will be the suspect's refusal to talk. No matter what the circumstances of his arrest may have been, his legal counsel will advise him to say nothing.

As far as policemen are concerned, this often nullifies what they were hoping to accomplish by making the arrest in the first place. Their purpose was to bring a wrong - doer to justice.

The suspect's lawyer will have a different purpose—to keep his client from being fined and imprisoned.

The next step in this direction would be to require the police to go to a nearby telephone and call the suspect's lawyer before making the arrest, so he could be advised to avoid arrest in the first place.

For many years the suggestion has been made from time to time that a citizen panel interested in justice be so constituted that one member could be present during police interrogations of suspects to avert accusation of brutality and statements made and signed under duress. This person would not be a legal adviser. He would be a citizen-observer, responsible for watching police practices, to guarantee the right of the suspect to fair treatment.

Such an adviser would serve a definite purpose and help eliminate many charges—some just and some unjust—which exist at present.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I'd like to meet Hyman G. Rickover, the little vice admiral who won fame for bugging the U.S. Navy, then branched out and bugged everybody.

I would like to tug a forelock to this misplaced seadog.

He embodies most of the best virtues of freedom. I mean he speaks out when he has something to say, and he does all his own thinking.

His latest outburst is in a lecture sponsored by the British Association for the Advancement of Science in London. I don't have the text, but I have the theme.

Adm. Rickover says technology that merely exploits scientific knowledge, without giving any benefit to the human race, is a threat to civilization.

He says science exists for the advancement of mankind and technology which bestows no benefits on mankind could be mankind's undoing.

Adm. Rickover has earned a 21-gun salute.

Remember "technocracy"?

Of course you don't. You were still trying to play a ukelele—or was it a mandolin?

Technocrats were going like a house afire in the early '30s. They wanted to put control of everything in the hands of engineers and scientists.

They preached that the economics of the social order were too important to be handled by politicians. They thought everything could be measured in scientific ways and no other ways should be recognized.

What happened to the technocrats? I will tell you what happened to them, my friend. They changed hats.

They now are off on a new kick—automation. Trust the automated widget wizards. Phase humanity out of the picture. The future belongs to the computer. That's what became of the technocrats.

What is going to happen to the human race? That is the human race's problem, dearie. So say the new technocrats.

These "automacrats" deny this. They tell us they think of us night and day and everything they are doing is for our own good.

The technocrats, too, thought it would be good for us to be measured and controlled scientifically, with no messy emotionalism to gum the works.

And don't overlook this —that the technocrats did not lose a war in the '30s. They bogged down in a battle here in the United States and retreated to a "previously fortified position"—the Soviet Union.

They now are losing their battle there and are popping up in another "previously fortified position" — the Chinese People's Republic.

Technocracy and the credo that man exists only for technological exploitation fits Marxism to a T. Maybe you have wondered, too, if the real struggle of our time isn't between gross materialists — knuckleheads who think mankind was put on the earth to be exploited by technologists — and people who think technology exists to serve mankind.

Your aunt says to tell you she has sewed me up in my winter woolies and this is why I'm on fire. Sometimes that woman bugs me as much as Adm. Rickover bugs admirals, school teachers and—technologists.

Saigon Struck By Port Paralysis

By Victor Riesel

Pregnant women slinging cargo. Lady dockers struggling with 220-pound bags from shipside to "warehouse." Female longshoremen struggling to load trucks with cement mix. All under the searing sun. Stevedores working four hours and knocking off for three.

Victor Riesel

Thirty to 40 ships in the hold, sitting for a month, low in the water, out in the sea, waiting to be unloaded.

No sense of urgency. No Somerset Maugham South Sea copra island bay, this! It's the Port of Saigon.

That and much worse greeted Ted Gleason recently when he flew halfway around the world to see what he, as president of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), could do about decongesting the piers of the land now soaked with blood of American and allied troops.

As a pro, what Teddy Gleason saw when he flew in as a technical adviser to the U.S. aid mission, frustrated him. As a patriot, it horrified and angered him. In the holds of the waiting ships was food vitally needed by the war-slashed nation in which some 700,000 refugees had left their farms and food-raising districts.

THE PEOPLE are hungry. Rationing is threatened. But freighters, with vital relief aboard, not only had to wait for more than a month out in the ways, before they could find a berth in the Saigon port, but once alongside, were imprisoned by two weeks of leisurely unloading when it should have taken three to four days. Small wonder the United Sates is running short of vessels.

Gleason told this column of seeing men load "100-kilo bags of flour" on the back of a woman. It was he who saw the pregnant "longshoremen." Why women? Becsuse they work cheaper than men.

Were there men available? By the tens of thousands. There are hungry refugees asking for any kind of job. Why were they not recruited and hired?

Because there are "middlemen"—labor brokers. These are parasites who round up the working crews. They get their cut of the wretched wages paid the waterfront workers there.

THE LABOR BROKERS have "protection." Many of them are part of the endemic instant political parties or are angled by other pressure groups. The hiring is done through these flesh peddlers who do nothing but take their cut.

Furthermore, they disrupt the efficiency, if you will forgive the word here, of what dock gangs there are. Since the brokers are paid per man on each new hiring, it's to the middleman's benefit to lay off the cargo-slingers and then rehire them. The more, the bigger the commission.

Those who do get the work put in a four hour day, or knock off whenever it gets too hot. There are virtually no controls, no supervision, no discipline and, of course, almost no wages by any decent standards.

This is the corrupt human factor. Technically, the piers and their gear are on the same standard as the labor system.

WHAT HORRIFIED Gleason was the threat to America's unnoticed offensive — the drive against Vietnamese hunger. With farming and rice growing and fishing disrupted, the U.S. is attempting to compensate with new foods, new tastes, new diets, foodstuffs more nutritive than the old rice and fish. And what he encountered was a noisy but slow motion port.

On his return stateside, he whipped out a 20-point program for government action. His liaison with the government agencies is the affable and efficient, though anonymous, George "Phil" Delaney, special assistant to Secretary of State Dean Rusk (as Coordinator of International Labor Affairs).

What "Teddy" recommends is: Drive out the flesh-peddling labor brokers. Recruit thousands of jobless able-bodied refugees. Organize them into 15-man gangs.

Put them on a 20 hour, instead of a four-hour day. Work them eight hours with two hours off during the grueling heat. Get them portable sun and rain shields. Work them 12 hours on the night side.

Pay them a living wage. Get the required gear. Rush in men who know something about dockwalloping. His union will send five skilled longshoremen to Saigon, and pay all their expenses, to get the port into shape.

His contribution—and that of his union—are considerable. But more important is his willingness to come home and report the truth of what he saw.

It's time to drive out the flesh peddlers and profiteers.

Wallace's Hidden Talent

By Raymond Moley

It's one of those ironic turns in history that Henry Agard Wallace's contribution to the development of hybrid corn should have helped to undo the heroic efforts he made in the 1930s to reduce agricultural surpluses and to create a problem which has baffled every President and secretary of agriculture in the years since Wallace left the department.

I'm concerned here, however, with a bit of a memoir. For I was a contemporary of Wallace during the earlier and happier two years of Wallace's public career. In the spring of 1932 Rex Tugwell brought to the attention of candidate Franklin Roosevelt and the policy group which I had assembled a plan which he believed would not only provide material for a campaign issue, but serve Roosvelt, if elected, as a means of stabilizing agriculture.

This was called the domestic allotment plan, and it proposed to raise money, by a processing tax, which might compensate farmers who voluntarily restricted their production for domestic consumption.

WALLACE WAS BROUGHT to Hyde Park to discuss the subject with Roosevelt and those of us who were shaping policies for the campaign. Greatly impressed by the Iowa editor's wide store of information about Midwestern farmers and farming, by his modest demeanor and his dedication, Tugwell and I mounted an effort to have Roosevelt, if elected, name Wallace as secretary of agriculture.

In January Roosevelt made his decision and wrote a letter to Wallace offering him the job. When there was no immediate answer, Roosevelt delegated me to secure his acceptance.

I called Wallace in Des Moines and rather bluntly asked him for his decision. There was a long pause at his end of the line, and only after I had repeated the question did he rather gently answer, "Yes."

I realized later that Wallace's hesitation was due to the inherent modesty of the man. He realized quite well, from living in the midst of the farm country, what a stupendous task would face any secretary of agriculture in that depressed time, how divided the farmers were as to means of relief and that he would be plunged into a boiling political pot.

But he came to Washington and faced the music for eight long years. In retrospect, I believe he succeeded, despite the criticism which was heaped upon him at the time and since.

THE SUPREME COURT in 1936 declared the processing tax unconstitutional, but I believe that the three judges who dissented were right. Wallace, however, welcomed the opportunity to try a new plan of soil conservation financed out of general taxation.

It's to Wallace's credit that the farmers in those eight years led the way to recovery, and their lot was immensely improved later. Wallace except for his scientific contributions, cannot be blamed for the fact that in all the years afterward the burden of surpluses has cost so many billions of tax dollars. For the origins of the farm problem were in the first world war, when vast acreage expansion was encouraged by the government to meet the need of feeding a Europe at war.

As a public official in those years, Wallace was deeply introspective. He was also profoundly moved by the human plight of the farmers he knew so well. He faced bitter criticism not only from political elements in Congress, but from farmers he was trying hard to help.

IN THE PRESS NOTICES since Wallace's death, the more unhappy history of his stormy years as vice president, his conflicts with Harry Truman and his unfortunate presidential candidacy in 1948 have obscured those earlier years in the Cabinet and also the quiet but vastly useful years since his retirement from public life.

The great farm problem is still with us. But it is to the credit of Henry Wallace that no one in our time threw more light into that dark area.

Viet 'Surprise'

By James Marlow

Red Troops Prove Tough Fighters

WASHINGTON

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, now in Viet Nam on his seventh visit, expresses surprise at the "intensity and scale of attacks by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces in recent weeks."

He didn't have to be surprised. Those forces are probably the toughest in Asia. In their eight-year war with France they killed and wounded over 130,000 of the French forces, suffered perhaps more than 200,000 casualties themselves.

McNamara's "surprise" could be taken as an example of how this country and France underestimated the spirit of those Vietnamese who get and got their leadership from the old Communist, Ho Chi Minh, leader of North Viet Nam.

During the first two years of President John F. Kennedy's administration McNamara kept coming back from Viet Nam full of optimism and only slowly, after Kennedy's death, began saving the war might be long and hard.

This country is paying the penalty for having failed to understand the quality of its opponents and for having failed to do more to defeat it.

NOW ARTHUR M. Schlesinger Jr., historian and special aide to Kennedy, writes of the late president's reaction when he heard that South Viet Nam's President Ngo Dinh Diem, had been killed, not by Communists but by his own people.

Diem, backed by this country for eight years, was assassinated Nov. 2, 1963, along with his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, just three weeks before Kennedy's death.

In his book just out, "A Thousand Days," Schlesinger says Kennedy was "somber and shaken.

"I had not seen him so depressed since the Bay of Pigs. No doubt he realized that Viet Nam was his great failure in foreign policy, and that he had never really given it his full attention."

The failure to understand what was happening in Viet Nam, and what was needed to offset the Communist thrust, began long ago.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

A great naval hero, Stephen Decantur, once said: "This is my country. May she ever be in the right, but right or wrong, this is still my country."

Abraham Lincoln said: "Stand with anybody that stands right; stand with him while he is right and part with him when he goes wrong."

Today we are engaged in an undeclared war in Viet Nam with an enemy who is all around and among us and our Supreme Court has ruled we cannot register him now as communist.

Fidel Castro of Cuba is an arch enemy of ours and is an avowed communist, yet he is permitted to send several thousand emigrants to the United States, which could well mean infiltration.

We know on good authority that some of our allies are sending munitions and supplies to North Viet Nam. It has been said by a U.S. officer that up until recently 75 per cent of our casualties have been shot in the back.

Now they tell us to display our flag to show our support for the soldiers in Viet Nam. Yes, we will support them with our last dollar to the last ditch because they are our own flesh and blood. Now this does not mean that we support the prosecution or the entry into this conflict.

Whether the reader concurs with what I have said matters not, the important thing is I still have the liberty to say it, and this right I do not want to lose.

Let us face our enemies and not mingle with them lest they stab us in the back.

A Letter From The Front

". . .A lot of men are dying over here and it gets sadder every day. However, it is necessary that we show the Commies that we can meet them on their terms and beat them or else we will be fighting them in a lot of other places later on."

The words are those of Lt. L. E. Wagoner, now a resident of Las Vegas, Nev., but a native of Wellsville who attended Wellsville schools. He is a grandson of Mrs. Beth Wagoner of East Liverpool and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Perry of Wellsville.

Lt. Wagoner was wounded in Viet Nam and spent several weeks in a hospital at Yokosuka, Japan.

THE SUPREME COURT in 1936 declared the processing tax unconstitutional, but I believe that the three judges who dissented were right. Wallace, however, welcomed the opportunity to try a new plan of soil conservation financed out of general taxation.

It's to Wallace's credit that the farmers in those eight years led the way to recovery, and their lot was immensely improved later. Wallace except for his scientific contributions, cannot be blamed for the fact that in all the years afterward the burden of surpluses has cost so many billions of tax dollars. For the origins of the farm problem were in the first world war, when vast acreage expansion was encouraged by the government to meet the need of feeding a Europe at war.

As a public official in those years, Wallace was deeply introspective. He was also profoundly moved by the human plight of the farmers he knew so well. He faced bitter criticism not only from political elements in Congress, but from farmers he was trying hard to help.

IN THE PRESS NOTICES since Wallace's death, the more unhappy history of his stormy years as vice president, his conflicts with Harry Truman and his unfortunate presidential candidacy in 1948 have obscured those earlier years in the Cabinet and also the quiet but vastly useful years since his retirement from public life.

The great farm problem is still with us. But it is to the credit of Henry Wallace that no one in our time threw more light into that dark area.

Viet 'Surprise'

By James Marlow

Red Troops Prove Tough Fighters

WASHINGTON

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, now in Viet Nam on his seventh visit, expresses surprise at the "intensity and scale of attacks by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces in recent weeks."

He didn't have to be surprised. Those forces are probably the toughest in Asia. In their eight-year war with France they killed and wounded over 130,000 of the French forces, suffered perhaps more than 200,000 casualties themselves.

McNamara's "surprise" could be taken as an example of how this country and France underestimated the spirit of those Vietnamese who get and got their leadership from the old Communist, Ho Chi Minh, leader of North Viet Nam.

During the first two years of President John F. Kennedy's administration McNamara kept coming back from Viet Nam full of optimism and only slowly, after Kennedy's death, began saving the war might be long and hard.

This country is paying the penalty for having failed to understand the quality of its opponents and for having failed to do more to defeat it.

NOW ARTHUR M. Schlesinger Jr., historian and special aide to Kennedy, writes of the late president's reaction when he heard that South Viet Nam's President Ngo Dinh Diem, had been killed, not by Communists but by his own people.

Diem, backed by this country for eight years, was assassinated Nov. 2, 1963, along with his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, just three weeks before Kennedy's death.

In his book just out, "A Thousand Days," Schlesinger says Kennedy was "somber and shaken.

"I had not seen him so depressed since the Bay of Pigs. No doubt he realized that Viet Nam was his great failure in foreign policy, and that he had never really given it his full attention."

The failure to understand what was happening in Viet Nam, and what was needed to offset the Communist thrust, began long ago.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

A great naval hero, Stephen Decantur, once said: "This is my country. May she ever be in the right, but right or wrong, this is still my country."

Abraham Lincoln said: "Stand with anybody that stands right; stand with him while he is right and part with him when he goes wrong."

Today we are engaged in an undeclared war in Viet Nam with an enemy who is all around and among us and our Supreme Court has ruled we cannot register him now as communist.

Fidel Castro of Cuba is an arch enemy of ours and is an avowed communist, yet he is permitted to send several thousand emigrants to the United States, which could well mean infiltration.

We know on good authority that some of our allies are sending munitions and supplies to North Viet Nam. It has been said by a U.S. officer that up until recently 75 per cent of our casualties have been shot in the back.

Now they tell us to display our flag to show our support for the soldiers in Viet Nam. Yes, we will support them with our last dollar to the last ditch because they are our own flesh and blood. Now this does not mean that we support the prosecution or the entry into this conflict.

Whether the reader concurs with what I have said matters not, the important thing is I still have the liberty to say it, and this right I do not want to lose.

Let us face our enemies and not mingle with them lest they stab us in the back.

Hunt Pushed For Another Plane In Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Investigators raked through the wreckage of a DC3, a search party was to recover bodies and search planes circled snow-capped mountains today in the wake of airplane disasters that have claimed 61 lives in Utah in 16 days.

Civil Aeronautics Board investigators probed the wreckage of a twin-engine DC3 that crashed minutes after takeoff from Salt Lake Airport Saturday, killing all 13 persons aboard.

It was the second commercial airliner tragedy in the state this month. On Nov. 11, a United Air Lines 727 trijet crashlanded and burst into flames at the airport, killing 43 of the 91 persons aboard.

In south-central Utah, a ground party was to bring down the bodies of four Minneapolis residents who perished when their light plane crashed near the peak of 11,139-foot Mt. Belnap.

The Minnesota plane disappeared in a snowstorm Nov. 14. The same night a private plane piloted by a Phoenix, Ariz., minister disappeared. He was found dead in the wreckage the next day.

Civil Air Patrol planes were still searching the mountains of eastern Utah today for a small plane that vanished with an Air Force sergeant on a flight from Salt Lake City to Denver.

The plane which crashed Saturday was operated by Edde Airlines, a charter service. On board were nine passengers and four crew members. It took off at dawn. Two hours later the smouldering wreckage was found in the Traverse Mountains 20 miles south of the airport.

labor surplus in virtually every country except Germany, which is importing labor, primarily from Italy.

The shortage of electric power and the lack of central heating stand out in his recollections, Starkey said, recalling that many of the shops he saw were dimly lit and on many occasions the clerks were wearing coats while working.

One of the highlights of the tour was a four-hour guided tour that Starkey made of East Berlin, which he termed "a blot on humanity."

The grimness of the people stands out in his memory, Starkey continued, pointing out that there were no signs of recognition of the tourists. Despite smiles and waves by the bus passengers, the East Berliners did not return the waves or the smiles.

ALTHOUGH IT still has a comparatively large population, Starkey said he saw only 18 to 20 passenger cars during the four - hour tour on which an East German served as guide.

Driving past a beautiful library building, Starkey said he could see no lights inside and there was no one going in or out.

Seeing the famed wall which divides East and West Berlin, Starkey commented, "Man must be pretty weak to let such a thing happen." The demarcation line between the sectors is not all a wall, but includes the wall, a stream and a series of barbed wire entanglements, Starkey explained.

The touring group underwent a rigid check at "Checkpoint Charlie," where East Germans stood guard with submachine guns "at the ready." The tourists had to register, listing their passport number and all of the currency they carried. The passports were checked on their return, although no check was made of the money they carried, Starkey recalled.

The trade mission left for Europe on a regular commercial flight after a briefing in Cleveland. The group landed in London, where they remained four days, including a day spent in Birmingham where a continual urban renewal program is under way.

The group was hosted at a reception in the Birmingham City Hall by the Lord High Mayor.

MEMBERS OF the mission also visited Brussels, Rotterdam, Amsterdam, Dusseldorf, Milan, Turin, Madrid, Barcelona and Lisbon. Barcelona was the most beautiful city he saw during the trip, Starkey said.

Because President DeGaulle is opposed to the European Common Market, the mission did not visit France.

Several members of the mission made individual trips to the Scandinavian countries and other cities to make business contacts.

Most of the large cities not only have their own version of the Chamber of Commerce, but also have American Chambers of Commerce, he continued.

In each of the countries they visited, American Embassy officials conducted briefings on the modes and customs of the country and reviewed their economic and industrial background.

Embassy personnel also arranged all of the conferences with their business counterparts, he said.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Former President Adolfo Lopez Mateos was reported getting along well today after a four-hour brain operation to remove a blood clot.

Dr. Gregorio Gonzalez Mariscal, a Mexican brain specialist, said: "I am very happy about the results."

year term. A proposal by the late President John F. Kennedy to make the chairman's term coincide with a presidential term went nowhere in Congress, and the Johnson administration has no plans to revive it.

The board is maintaining a 4 per cent rediscount rate at this point which tends to boost interest charged by banks and other lending institutions.

The White House has figured out that the cost of short-term borrowing by the Treasury has gone up 72 per cent since 1961. In that year the Treasury was renting money for an average of 2.378 per cent interest; this month, the rate has been 4.097 per cent.

Long-term Treasury bonds cost the government about 12 per cent more than in 1961, because of an increase in the average interest rate from 3.90 per cent to 4.35 per cent.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, in a speech at New Orleans Sunday night, said any further increase in interest rates as a brake against possible inflation growing out of the long economic boom would be "premature and unwise."

As he did in the controversy over aluminum and copper prices, Johnson is staying in the background of the campaign to ease the increased borrowing costs which Budget Bureau experts say will add about $400 million this year to the January estimate of $11.6 billion interest charges on the national debt.

This is one of several reasons given by White House officials to explain why the new budget Johnson will send to Congress Jan. 17 will go over the $100-billion mark — and possibly to $105 billion or more. It is also a factor in the administration's estimate that the deficit for the current year will range from $7 to $8 billion.

The President took time out Sunday from a weekend spent working on his budget to study documents prepared for a series of meetings with heads of state in mid-December and to make a personal appearance at Dr. Billy Graham's evangelical crusade in the Houston, Tex., Astrodome.

This was Johnson's personal observance of a national day of dedication and prayer for U.S. forces and their allies in South Viet Nam.

Historical Group To Hold Meeting

The directors of the Mill Creek Valley Historical Society will meet Friday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Daniel W. Wilson of Aliquippa.

Chief items on the agenda will be a report on the membership campaign which is scheduled to end Jan. 1 and the announcement of judges to choose a winner in the emblem design contest of the association.

An art contest has been in progress in all of the schools in Southern Beaver County in an attempt to have a club emblem drawn.

The contest ended Wednesday and judges will be appointed to select the winner.

At a meeting last Thursday, six new members were accepted, raising the total to 224.

The directors also signed the final papers for a charter and presented them to Leonard Ewing, the solicitor.

Historical Group To Hold Meeting

The directors of the Mill Creek Valley Historical Society will meet Friday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Daniel W. Wilson of Aliquippa.

Chief items on the agenda will be a report on the membership campaign which is scheduled to end Jan. 1 and the announcement of judges to choose a winner in the emblem design contest of the association.

An art contest has been in progress in all of the schools in Southern Beaver County in an attempt to have a club emblem drawn.

The contest ended Wednesday and judges will be appointed to select the winner.

At a meeting last Thursday, six new members were accepted, raising the total to 224.

The directors also signed the final papers for a charter and presented them to Leonard Ewing, the solicitor.

executed, as his wife was crying. He explained that the Viet Cong announced a few months ago it had executed one of Sgt. Smith's buddies, Sgt. Claude E. Roraback of Fayetteville, N. C., in retaliation for the shooting of saboteurs by the South Viet Nam forces.

The first U. S. announcement of the impending release of Sgt. Smith came in a statement from the Defense Department at Washington. The Defense Department said it had been advised of the Viet Cong radio announcement that it was releasing Sgt. Smith and a companion as a gesture of support for a "peace march" in Washington Saturday.

Sgt. Smith arrived in Viet Nam for duty on July 16, 1963, and a few hours later he was wounded in an attack by the Viet Cong on the Saigon airport. He was awarded the Purple Heart during his hospitalization.

Then, on Nov. 24, Sgt. Smith and his four buddies were captured by the Red Forces when they overran a Special Forces camp called Hiep Hoa, 18 miles west of Saigon.

HIS COMMANDING officer later wrote to Mrs. Potts that their son was seen being led away by the Red forces and it was assumed that he was a prisoner of war. He was listed officially as "missing in action" because the U. S. had no confirmation that he was alive.

The commanding officer wrote that Sgt. Smith was limping and appeared to have been wounded and that his hands were tied behind his back.

Then followed months of waiting and hoping. Mrs. Smith believed that her son was a prisoner, but the fact never was confirmed officially.

The first report that he was "alive and well" came on May 10, 1964, in a story written by a Communist - oriented newspaperman who said he had interviewed Sgt. Smith and his three companions in a prisoner of war camp in a remote patch of jungle.

A lengthy account of a visit to the PW camp was written for the Associated Press by Wilfred Burchett, an Australian newspaperman, describing how he met Sgt. Smith and the other captured GI's "in a remote corner of South Viet Nam, in a patch of jungle so dense that at midday only tiny patches of sky shine through like stars."

He named the other three prisoners — Sgt. Roraback, Spcl. McClure and Sgt. Isaac Camacho of El Paso, Tex.

He relayed a message from Sgt. Smith to his mother.

"Sgt. Smith wanted to let his mother know he was 'alive and being treated well'," Burchett wrote.

THE EXECUTION of St. Roraback cut the number of prisoners to three. And when Sgt. Camacho escaped, the number fell to two. The Texan said that the prisoners had received some of the mail from their families forwarded to them through the International Red Cross at Geneva, Switzerland.

The story of the captured GI's took another strange twist last Feb. 10 when Communist forces released to the free world movie films which they said had been taken in a PW camp in the jungle. The films were telecast on a national network.

The Army adjutant general's office in Washington telephoned Mrs. Potts in advance of the telecast, advising her of the plans to show the film and asking her to study the pictures to identify her son.

Mrs. Potts said she recognized George, but both she and her husband wondered whether the pictures had been taken recently or shortly after the four were captured. One scene showed Sgt. Smith and Sgt. Roraback eating and drinking from metal cups as they sat in a tiny jungle clearing.

Sgt. Smith originally enlisted in the Army in 1956. After completing the first hitch, he was a civilian for a year, then reenlisted.

Sgt. Smith was home on a 15-day furlough from Ft. Bragg, N. C., shortly before he started the tour of duty in Viet Nam. He was to have served six months, expecting to be home in time for Christmas 1963.

In Viet Nam, he served as a field medic with the native forces. He had just six months' training in radio operation, six months' medic training and six months' combat training.

In his first hitch he served with the 101st Airborne Division in Germany. While there, he was injured seriously in an auto accident and spent 17 months in a hospital at Norfolk, Va. Mrs. Potts last heard directly from her son on July 24, 1963, in a letter written shortly after his arrival in Viet Nam.

Hancock Farm Ballot To Close Wednesday

Wednesday is the deadline for Hancock County farmers to mail ballots for committeemen in the current election, Norma Murray, manager of the ASCS office in New Cumberland, said today.

Failure to have the ballot postmarked on or before that day or failure to sign the sealed envelope in which the ballot is placed will invalidate the ballot, she added. Ballots may also be taken in person to the county office on or before Wednesday, Mrs. Mrray said.

Votes will be publicly tabulated next Monday at 10 a.m. by C. C. Herron, W. C. Huff and Leslie E. Cuppy at the ASCS office, the office manager said.

55 in the state which cut their county budgets were:

Clay, $89,132, down $5,510; Grant, $10,000, down $898; Hampshire, $123,000, down $394; Logan $710,000, down $7,071; Taylor, $139,000, down $1,166, and Wyoming, $386,525, down $853.

Hancock County is 14th in the state in population, but ranks ninth in county commissioner budgets.

Here are the eight counties whose budgets for county purposes are higher than Hancock's:

Kanawha, $3,118,101; Cabell, $1,387,507; Ohio, $1,184,828; Wood, $809,115; Raleigh, $769,671; Harrison, $753,739; Marion, $715,275, and Logan, $701,018.

However, five of these counties have bond payments to make, but Hancock County doesn't.

Hancock's budget would be seventh highest in the state if the bond payments of Raleigh and Logan counties were not considered.

EVANS pointed out that Hancock is the only county in the state which has a special levy for maintaining a state park.

Officials of the Natural Resources Department at Charleston confirmed his statement.

Evans said the special levy for Tomlinson Run State Park this year yielded $14,139. He said he wants the state to operate Tomlinson Park on the same basis it operates all other state parks.

"If we eliminate this park levy," Evans said, "we will achieve a further saving for Hancock taxpayers."

Evans said the court's first concern was for full service for the county and secondly for fullest efficiency and economy.

Canfield Man Cited After Chester Crash

Richard Baird, 33, of Canfield was charged with illegal parking and leaving the scene of accident following a mishap on Carolina Ave., Chester, Sunday night at 10:30 involving his 1957 sedan and a 1965 coupe driven by James A. Wallace, 37, of 314 Indiana Ave., Chester.

MRS. DiPASQUALE
Marries At Church Here.

Miss Janice Kay Taylor became the bride of John DiPasquale during a high nuptial Mass performed by Fr. William J. Lawler at 12 noon on Nov. 20 at St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Taylor of 722 Daisy Ln. and her husband is the son of Pat DiPasquale of 1216 Avondale St. and the late Mrs. Juanita DiPasquale.

The altar was banked with white pompons and ferns for the double - ring ceremony. Satin bows marked the family pews. Mrs. James O'Reilly, church organist, presented a half - hour of wedding music. Her husband was soloist. The bride placed a bouquet of white pompons and gladiolus before the statue of the blessed Virgin.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves. The A-line style skirt was accented with a back panel which formed a chapel train.

She borrowed her headpiece and veil from her cousin, Mrs. Regis Schmidbauer of Cucamonga, Calif. It was a heart-shaped seeded pearl crown and fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a Colonial bouquet of lace pompons and lily-of-the-valley, centered with a white orchid and tied with satin streamers with lovers' knots. All the familiar traditions were observed.

Miss Janice Eardley, maid of honor, appeared in emerald green and Miss Patricia DiPasquale, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Beverly Matheny, bridesmaids, in gold color gowns. They were designed with Empire style brocade bodices and crepe sheath skirts.

VEILS OF imported silk illusion were attached to their matching open - crown pillbox headpieces. They carried Colonial bouquets. Miss Eardley had yellow pompons and lily-of-the-valley, and the bridesmaids, apricot color pompons and lily-of-the-valley.

Rhonda Gualtier and Jeffrey Taylor, niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ringbearer. She wore a white nylon dress and crown of yellow pompons and carried a basket of apricot pompons and lily-of-the-valley.

A reception for 150 followed at the Mary Patterson Memorial. The buffet table was centered with a three - tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple. Gold and white streamers, wedding bells and candelabra completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Robert Dawson, Mrs. Robley Evans, Mrs. Fred Crossen, Mrs. Robert McKinnon, Miss Anna May Horton, Miss Sherrie Beck, Miss Susan Powell and Miss Sandy Clutter.

GUESTS WERE from Portsmouth, Jackson, Columbus, Newton Falls, Cleveland, Steubenville, Amsterdam, Chillicothe, Cincinnati, Wellsville, Follansbee, Weirton, Wheeling, Triadelphia, Huntington and Baden.

For her honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, the bride wore a white wool knit dress with red accessories and her bridal orchid.

The newlyweds are 1964 graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride attended Kent State University and is employed at Smith's Bakery.

The bridegroom attended Findlay College, Youngstown University and is presently enrolled at the Kent State University branch. He works at the Hall China Co.

The couple are receiving friends at 720 Daisy Ln.

Avalanches combine tremendous destructive force — up to 22 tons per square foot—with a seemingly whimsical nature. One snowslide leap - frogged a village, but left as a sourvenir a single pine tree planted upright on the roof of the preacher's house.

Camp Fire Girls Set Plans For Christmas Ceremony

Final arrangements have been announced for the second annual "Christmas Ceremonial" to be presented by Kinoka Council of the Camp Fire Girls Friday at 7 p. m. in Memorial Auditorium.

Mrs. Charles Lang, program chairman, said an audience "carol sing" will precede the processional to be led by members of the Horizon Club.

Miss Janet Brokaw will explain the purpose of the ceremonial, following which the candles will be lighted by girls of the Horizon Club.

Service gifts will be presented by two representatives of each group. One of the girls will announce the name of the service project her group has chosen, such as giving assistance to the sponsoring organization, a community spot, or an individual, and will place a gift - wrapped empty box under the tree as a symbol of the project.

The second girl will hang an ornament, which her group has made, on the tree and turn on one of the lights. Mrs. Kenneth Johnson will assist with the tree lights.

The Blue Birds will make their service pledges first, then sing in a body "Away In a Manger." The same procedure will be followed by the Camp Fire Girls, who will sing "Hark The Herald Angels Sing," Jr. High members, who will sing "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and the Horzion Club girls "O Come All Ye Faithful." Mrs. John Chadwick will lead the singing.

George E. Willshaw, mayor, will accept the service projects. Among guests to be introduced will be Mrs. Larry Walton, council president.

All group participants are asked to be at the auditorium by 6:30.

Capital Demonstration Held

More Marches Planned By Anti-Viet War Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leader of the weekend peace march on Washington, in which thousands protested American involvement in the Viet Nam war, said today that "a demonstration doesn't convince anybody."

Despite this, Sanford Gottlieb said in a telephone interview, more demonstrations are being considered by the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy — SANE.

Gottlieb is political action director of SANE, which sponsored Saturday's march and picketing of the White House in protest of U.S. policies in Viet Nam. March officials estimated the turnout at 40,000 to 50,000; police placed it at 25,000.

"We were definitely pleased with the turnout," Gottlieb said, "despite the bus drivers who wouldn't drive people from New York and also from Baltimore."

Future marches are being considered, he said, because "at a time when a dramatic event is needed to publicize your point of view, there's nothing like a large demonstration.

"But a demonstration doesn't convince anybody," Gottlieb said.

March leaders issued a leaflet during the protest titled "What to Do Next." SANE advised protesters to write letters to newspapers, support politicians who favor a peaceful solution to the war and urge clergymen to discuss the moral issues of the Viet Nam battle.

"None of us has any illusions about the effect of any single march or even about marches as a form of action," Gottlieb said. To get results, recommendations such as offered in the leaflet "must be carried out week by week."

The SANE marchers carried signs urging an end to bombing in Viet Nam and negotiated settlement of the war. They were joined by more dissident groups, including one carrying the gold-starred flag of the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas.

March leaders had arranged for protesters carrying American flags to quickly surround the Viet Cong banners. Despite this, some of the 13 arrests during the march were prompted by the Communist flags.

Toll Hits 11 In Gas Blast

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP)—Investigators turned their attention to a gas line today as they continued to probe last Wednesday's armory explosion that has brought death to 11 square dancers.

The 11th victim of the blast that wrecked the armory was Mrs. Violet Beckett, 49, of Argyle, Iowa, who died Sunday.

Twenty-two others remained in critical condition.

The armory was heated with gas, and investigators said an accumulation of gas caused the explosion. They sought the source of the gas.

State Fire Marshal Wilbur Johnson, returning to the scene today after a Sunday break, said investigators found a fracture in the gas pipeline serving the armory, about eight feet outside the wall of the building.

But he said there was serious doubt as to whether the break was there before the explosion.

Cairo is named after the planet Mars—El Qahira in Arabic.

New High Hit In Export Of Crop Harvest

Farm exports reached a record $6.1 billion and included the output from 71 million acres.

A year-end review by the Agriculture Department further underlined the foreign trade significance of American farming with a fact sheet showing the export market accounted for:

—Almost one-third of the dried prunes and cottonseed:

—About one-fourth of the cotton, tobacco, raising, grain sorghums and flaxseed: and

—One-sixth of the corn, barley, lard and dry beans.

These U. S. farm exports required financing, inland transportation, storage and ocean shipping for 52 million long tons of cargo—enough to fill more than 1.1 million freight cars or 5,200 cargo vessels, which averages out to about 14 sailings each day.

Commercial sales for dollars accounted for a near-record $4.4 billion of the total export value. The remaining $1.7 billion went abroad under various aid-type programs.

Man's Arm Amputated After Mishap At Mine

An elderly Hammondsville area man was in "fairly good" condition today at Ohio Valley Hospital at Steubenville after suffering the loss of an arm as the result of an accident at a coal mine near Monroeville Saturday afternoon.

The hand first was amputated above the wrist and the arm was so badly shattered it was amputated at the hospital. Arbaugh is employed as a watchman at the firm and had been residing in a small trailer there.

Severe Storms Batter Italian Coastal Areas

ROME (AP)— Storms lashed the Italian coasts today for the sixth day, keeping shipping double-anchored in ports and wrecking beach resort cabins.

Anchor chains snapped on light freighters in Naples harbor, and crews struggled to keep the ships off the rocks. Waves splashed over coastal highways around the city.

Heavy snowfall was reported in the Alps.

Capital Demonstration Held

More Marches Planned By Anti-Viet War Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leader of the weekend peace march on Washington, in which thousands protested American involvement in the Viet Nam war, said today that "a demonstration doesn't convince anybody."

Despite this, Sanford Gottlieb said in a telephone interview, more demonstrations are being considered by the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy — SANE.

Gottlieb is political action director of SANE, which sponsored Saturday's march and picketing of the White House in protest of U.S. policies in Viet Nam. March officials estimated the turnout at 40,000 to 50,000; police placed it at 25,000.

"We were definitely pleased with the turnout," Gottlieb said, "despite the bus drivers who wouldn't drive people from New York and also from Baltimore."

Future marches are being considered, he said, because "at a time when a dramatic event is needed to publicize your point of view, there's nothing like a large demonstration.

"But a demonstration doesn't convince anybody," Gottlieb said.

March leaders issued a leaflet during the protest titled "What to Do Next." SANE advised protesters to write letters to newspapers, support politicians who favor a peaceful solution to the war and urge clergymen to discuss the moral issues of the Viet Nam battle.

"None of us has any illusions about the effect of any single march or even about marches as a form of action," Gottlieb said. To get results, recommendations such as offered in the leaflet "must be carried out week by week."

The SANE marchers carried signs urging an end to bombing in Viet Nam and negotiated settlement of the war. They were joined by more dissident groups, including one carrying the gold-starred flag of the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas.

March leaders had arranged for protesters carrying American flags to quickly surround the Viet Cong banners. Despite this, some of the 13 arrests during the march were prompted by the Communist flags.

Toll Hits 11 In Gas Blast

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP)—Investigators turned their attention to a gas line today as they continued to probe last Wednesday's armory explosion that has brought death to 11 square dancers.

The 11th victim of the blast that wrecked the armory was Mrs. Violet Beckett, 49, of Argyle, Iowa, who died Sunday.

Twenty-two others remained in critical condition.

The armory was heated with gas, and investigators said an accumulation of gas caused the explosion. They sought the source of the gas.

State Fire Marshal Wilbur Johnson, returning to the scene today after a Sunday break, said investigators found a fracture in the gas pipeline serving the armory, about eight feet outside the wall of the building.

But he said there was serious doubt as to whether the break was there before the explosion.

Cairo is named after the planet Mars—El Qahira in Arabic.

New High Hit In Export Of Crop Harvest

Farm exports reached a record $6.1 billion and included the output from 71 million acres.

A year-end review by the Agriculture Department further underlined the foreign trade significance of American farming with a fact sheet showing the export market accounted for:

—Almost one-third of the dried prunes and cottonseed:

—About one-fourth of the cotton, tobacco, raising, grain sorghums and flaxseed: and

—One-sixth of the corn, barley, lard and dry beans.

These U. S. farm exports required financing, inland transportation, storage and ocean shipping for 52 million long tons of cargo—enough to fill more than 1.1 million freight cars or 5,200 cargo vessels, which averages out to about 14 sailings each day.

Commercial sales for dollars accounted for a near-record $4.4 billion of the total export value. The remaining $1.7 billion went abroad under various aid-type programs.

Boys Injured In Wreck Of Mother's Car

Two area children were injured when a car driven by their mother wrecked along Route 170 a mile north of Route 30 Saturday at 4:30 p. m.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the car was driven by Mrs. John Lacotta, 29, of Negley R. D. 1.

She was headed north when the right front tire blew out. The car swerved into a guardrail and over an embankment, officers said.

Her two sons, Christ, 7, and Timothy, 6, were injured. Timothy was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the forehead and abrasions of the left knee. Chris was treated for a laceration of the scalp.

Officers investigated two accidents on Route 7 near Brookside Park about 90 minutes apart Sunday afternoon.

The first at 3 p. m. involved cars operated by Alfred Leasure, 42, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, and Robert Sword of Twinsburg.

Leasure started to make a left turn as Sword started to pass him, causing the two cars to collide. Leasure was cited for failure to signal a turn and Sword was cited for failure to sound a horn when overtaking another vehicle.

At 4:30 p. m., a simiar accident occured at the same spot involving a small truck operated by Harold Dixon, 50, of Lisbon R. D. 3 and a car driven by Eva Hixenbaugh, 36, of Warren. Both were headed north and as the woman started to pass, Dixon started to make a left turn. Dixon was cited for failure to signal a turn.

Daniel Leffler Jr., 19, of Salineville R. D. 2 was cited for speeding after his car was wrecked on Route 39 a tenth of a mile west of Wellsville Sunday at 1:45 a. m.

Leffler was headed southwest at an apparent high rate of speed when he lost control of the vehicle, officers said. It slid sideways down the road and rammed a guardrail. His 1959 model car was demolished.

TV Methods Prove Downfall Of Burglar

COLUMUS, Ohio (AP) — Police who arrested Frank Paul Riley, 22, on a burglary charge viewed his downfall a result of "watching too much television."

The young Columbus man was accused of stealing two stethoscopes from a doctor's office with the apparent intention of using them to open a safe—"a highly impractical method", officers said.

'Enemy At Home'

G.I.'s Get Anti-War Leaflets

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — "That's really bad when you have to fight an enemy behind your back," said LeRoy Hensley, a Seabee in Viet Nam who received an "Oppose the War" leaflet.

"Even an animal don't turn on his own kind," Hensley said. "Them people, the head of the organization, they're a real enemy."

Californians in two Seabee companies received pacifist leaflets over the weekend issued by an organization known as the Vietnam Day Committee at Berkeley, Calif. A member of the committee in Berkeley acknowledged that the group issued the leaflets but said the committee didn't mail them to U.S. troops in Viet Nam.

Windrim Smith, Jr., said the committee printed about 30,000 of the leaflets, which call on all military personnel to oppose the war as "criminal and immoral."

Smith said the leaflets were distributed to peace organizations and various individuals in the United States, but not as far as he knew to servicemen, either at home or abroad.

"I got three of them in one envelope," said Hensley, 21, of Lodi, Calif. "I told the fellows, 'I got me one of them goofy letters. Anybody want to read one and have a good laugh?' "

But when Ronald Fuscello, 23 of Brooklyn, N.Y., read the leaflet he didn't laugh.

"It made me mad," Fuscello said. "We got to stop communism here. People that write stuff like that don't know what they are talking about. Maybe they ought to come over here and give us a hand."

Fuscello was wounded Oct. 27 when the Seabee camp was attacked by Communist guerrillas.

Rick Hubmann, 18, of Phenix City, Ala., also was wounded in the attack. Commenting on the authors of the leaflets, Hubmann said, "Most of them are draft dodgers. They figure that if we all quit, there wouldn't be any war over here."

Said Paul Weingardt, 33, of Sterling, Colo., another Seabee: "I was pretty well perturbed when I read it. I feel they're trying to undermine the military service."

Lt. Walt Pierce of Devon, Pa., commander of D Company of the 9th Mobile Construction Battalion, said: "The men in general think these guys are chicken and don't want to come over here."

It is not known how many U.S. servicemen have received the leaflets.

Printed on a white sheet of paper about letter size, the leaflet bears the inscription: "Attention All Military Personnel."

Under the heading "Oppose the War," the leaflet says, in part: "We hope that you, too, find yourself, as a human being, unable to tolerate this nightmare war, and we hope that you will oppose it."

"Anybody can see through it," said Chief Petty Officer Donald E. Conner, 37, of Port Hueneme, Calif., a veteran of 20 years in the Navy.

"I think the only effect it had was that it made the men a little madder. If anything, it makes better sailors out of them. My boys said the next deployment should be Berkeley instead of Viet Nam."

"I'd like to go up to Berkeley and take care of a few of them," said Hensley.

Fine Imposed On 2 Drivers And 2 Forfeit

Two motorists were fined and two others forfeited bonds this morning in Municipal Court.

John B. McGarey, 19, of 247 Highland Ave., Wellsville, was fined $25 and costs after pleading guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff to a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

McGarey was cited by police after his auto struck three parked cars on E. 3rd St. at Washington St. early Friday, injuring McGarey and two passengers.

Robert A. Berdine of 1102 Riverview St. drew a similar fine on a charge of illegal registration, but Judge Chertoff suspended the fine on payment of costs.

Berdine was cited Friday afternoon on Smith St. by Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr., who said the motorist had one tag on the car he was driving and the other plate on another auto at home.

Donald J. Hoppel of R. D. 3 forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of making an illegal right turn at E. 5th and Washington Sts. on Nov. 20.

Angelo P. Cianna of 1214 Commerce St., Wellsville, forfeited a $25.50 bond on a charge of failing to pay a parking ticket issued on E. 5th St. on April 23. Four other tickets were attached to the affidavit which was signed by Mrs. Leah P. Kelly, city "Meter Maid."

Emerson Leroy Barnes Jr., 819 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, is scheduled for a hearing Wednesday morning on a charge filed by the State Highway Patrol alleging he operated a car with a defective exhaust system.

The patrol cited Barnes Friday morning on Route 30 north of the city and said the muffler was split down the seam and smashed badly, allowing the exhaust to escape from the side of the muffler.

Son Born To Japan's Princess Michiko, 31

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Crown Princess Michiko gave birth to a boy early Tuesday morning and both are doing well, a palace spokesman announced.

Prince Akihito and the Princess Michiko have a 5-year-old son, Prince Hiro.

Are We More Efficient Germ Spreaders?

In the past, people caught a relatively small number of illnesses. But many were more apt to last longer, or even be fatal. Today, due to the automobile and larger urban areas, we expose ourselves to strangers' germs more often. Fortunately, new drugs and medications make us better equipped to fight these ailments than those in the past. For prompt, dependable service, bring your prescriptions to us.

Boys Injured In Wreck Of Mother's Car

Two area children were injured when a car driven by their mother wrecked along Route 170 a mile north of Route 30 Saturday at 4:30 p. m.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the car was driven by Mrs. John Lacotta, 29, of Negley R. D. 1.

She was headed north when the right front tire blew out. The car swerved into a guardrail and over an embankment, officers said.

Her two sons, Christ, 7, and Timothy, 6, were injured. Timothy was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the forehead and abrasions of the left knee. Chris was treated for a laceration of the scalp.

Officers investigated two accidents on Route 7 near Brookside Park about 90 minutes apart Sunday afternoon.

The first at 3 p. m. involved cars operated by Alfred Leasure, 42, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, and Robert Sword of Twinsburg.

Leasure started to make a left turn as Sword started to pass him, causing the two cars to collide. Leasure was cited for failure to signal a turn and Sword was cited for failure to sound a horn when overtaking another vehicle.

At 4:30 p. m., a simiar accident occured at the same spot involving a small truck operated by Harold Dixon, 50, of Lisbon R. D. 3 and a car driven by Eva Hixenbaugh, 36, of Warren. Both were headed north and as the woman started to pass, Dixon started to make a left turn. Dixon was cited for failure to signal a turn.

Daniel Leffler Jr., 19, of Salineville R. D. 2 was cited for speeding after his car was wrecked on Route 39 a tenth of a mile west of Wellsville Sunday at 1:45 a. m.

Leffler was headed southwest at an apparent high rate of speed when he lost control of the vehicle, officers said. It slid sideways down the road and rammed a guardrail. His 1959 model car was demolished.

TV Methods Prove Downfall Of Burglar

COLUMUS, Ohio (AP) — Police who arrested Frank Paul Riley, 22, on a burglary charge viewed his downfall a result of "watching too much television."

The young Columbus man was accused of stealing two stethoscopes from a doctor's office with the apparent intention of using them to open a safe—"a highly impractical method", officers said.

G.I.'s Get Anti-War Leaflets

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — "That's really bad when you have to fight an enemy behind your back," said LeRoy Hensley, a Seabee in Viet Nam who received an "Oppose the War" leaflet.

"Even an animal don't turn on his own kind," Hensley said. "Them people, the head of the organization, they're a real enemy."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I saw red when my eyes fell on the words, "The American husband is the most spoiled, pleasure - seeking parasite in the world." I was married to a European for 10 years so I speak as an authority.

The European husband would sooner be caught dead than with a dish towel in his hand. He feels it is beneath his dignity to carry out the garbage or empty an ash tray. It does not offend him, however, to sit in an easy chair with his shoes off and watch his wife haul large baskets of laundry up from the basement.

The European husband leaves his wife home a lot. I was never invited on a business trip, although my husband's colleagues often took their wives. I was not permitted to join a bridge club because my husband said respectable women don't leave the house alone at night.

Ten years with that dingbat was like a life sentence. Now I am happily married to an American who treats me like a human being — THUMBS DOWN ON EUROPEAN MEN.

Dear Thumbs: I'm not disputing your word but I know some American husbands who have the traits which you describe as "European." I'd like to hear from other women who have (or have had) European husbands. What goes (or went) on at your house, girls?

Modest Maiden

Dear Ann: Recently there was a letter in your column about wives who undress in the closet. This letter attracted my attention because I'm a 15-year-old girl who has a similar problem, only I hate to undress in front of my female classmates.

I just die when I have to shower after physical education. The dressing rooms don't have doors or curtains. It's not that I'm overly modest, Ann, it's just that I wear a size 32 A cup brassiere and I'm ashamed of having so little to put in it.

A flat-chested girl is like a peacock with no feathers. I feel inferior and self - conscious. Is there anything you can say to make me feel better? — LITTLE EVA.

Dear Eva: If you are only 15 don't buy a lifetime supply of 32A cups. You are sure to outgrow them.

Our society has become dimension wacky in the last 25 years and it's nonsense. Some of these top-heavy movie stars look like pasture animals. The girl who is slightly undersized can always add a little but the over endowed ones are stuck. And I don't want any of you smart-alerk college boys to write and tell me not to waste my sympathy on girls who are "stuck" with 38s. They might be doing all right — but for the wrong reasons.

By Appointment

Dear Ann: Why do some members of the clergy feel free to call on members of their parish any old time and expect to be welcomed as the flowers in spring?

Isn't it common courtesy to telephone and ask if a visit is convenient? Does a clergyman have a special license to drive over whenever he feels like it and ring the doorbell?

I've discussed this with three other women in our parish and they, too, resent these unannounced visits. If we are wrong, please tell us. Thank you. — JUST US.

Dear Just: No one has a right to drop in without first calling to see if it's convenient. I see no justification for a woman being trapped in her own home by a drop-in visitor when she is busy, unprepared or perhaps dashing to another appointment.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lost Prospector Aids In Hunt For Rescuer

This started last Wednesday when Ditto, 49, a prospector, was reported missing in the woods near this northern Vancouver Island community.

He was found the next day. Then Taylor, 21, a member of the search party, was reported missing.

Tyalor was found Saturday after he had spent two days in eight inches of snow, wearing only rubber boots, blue jeans, a shirt and windbreaker. Ditto helped organize the 100-man party that searched for Taylor.

Minister Battles Duty Charge Due For Ship Model

CLEVELAND (AP) — U. S. Customs officials and a suburban minister are at odds over the question of whether a ship model to be hung in a church is a religious article.

The Rev. Cyril M. Wismar, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Covenant in Maple Heights, went to pier 26 here last Friday to pick up a model of the frigate Olber, which had been built by Arne Petersen of Store Hedding, Denmark.

But customs officials feel the duty-free rule on religious articles does not apply to it. That means the Rev. Mr. Wismar would have to pay $210 duty on the model, which is valued at $600.

The minister lists two reasons why he believes the model has as much religious value as stained glass windows or a baptismal font, both of which, he says, are duty-free. They are:

—The model is symbolic of a flight from religious persecution. The Olber in 1839 brought German immigrants from Hamburg to New Orleans and they later founded the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod.

—Although it is not customary in America, many European churches display ships.

John F. Kovacic, collector of Customs, says the decision to impose duty will be re-examined and if it sticks an appeal can be made to Washington.

Man's Condition 'Fair' With Assault Injuries

Bernard A. Holt, 222 W. 7th St., was taken to the hospital early Sunday after being found unconscious and bleeding from the facial wounds. The hospital said he suffered contusions of the left eye and abrasions of the forehead.

Holt was found by a serviceman who notified police. Patrolman David K. Mumaw said the only thing Holt could recall was that a man jumped from an auto and struck him. He gave officers a partial description of his assailant.

Monaca Man Dies In Crash

A Monaca man was killed and a woman was injured when they were thrown from an auto which ran off Route 51 about five miles north of Aliquippa Saturday night and struck a tree.

The victim is Elmer James Bohon, 39, of 664 Frankfort Rd., who was a passenger in a car driven by Manley Lee Cutshall, 41, of 474 Reno St., Rochester. Cutshall was not injured.

Virginia Dwyer of 2542 Beaver Ave., Monaca, was in "fair" condition at Presbyterian-University Hospital in Pittsburgh with multiple cuts suffered in the crash.

Another Beaver County car figured in a collision on Route 22 near Johnstown in Cambria County in which an Indiana, Pa., woman was killed.

Officers said she was alone in her auto when it was struck broadside at an intersection by a car driven by Woodrow W. Houp, 53, of Carmel St., Aliquippa. Houp was unhurt. His wife, Annabelle, 46, and a son, David, 16, were released after treatment for minor injuries.

This started last Wednesday when Ditto, 49, a prospector, was reported missing in the woods near this northern Vancouver Island community.

He was found the next day. Then Taylor, 21, a member of the search party, was reported missing.

Tyalor was found Saturday after he had spent two days in eight inches of snow, wearing only rubber boots, blue jeans, a shirt and windbreaker. Ditto helped organize the 100-man party that searched for Taylor.

Minister Battles Duty Charge Due For Ship Model

CLEVELAND (AP) — U. S. Customs officials and a suburban minister are at odds over the question of whether a ship model to be hung in a church is a religious article.

The Rev. Cyril M. Wismar, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Covenant in Maple Heights, went to pier 26 here last Friday to pick up a model of the frigate Olber, which had been built by Arne Petersen of Store Hedding, Denmark.

But customs officials feel the duty-free rule on religious articles does not apply to it. That means the Rev. Mr. Wismar would have to pay $210 duty on the model, which is valued at $600.

The minister lists two reasons why he believes the model has as much religious value as stained glass windows or a baptismal font, both of which, he says, are duty-free. They are:

—The model is symbolic of a flight from religious persecution. The Olber in 1839 brought German immigrants from Hamburg to New Orleans and they later founded the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod.

—Although it is not customary in America, many European churches display ships.

John F. Kovacic, collector of Customs, says the decision to impose duty will be re-examined and if it sticks an appeal can be made to Washington.

Man's Condition 'Fair' With Assault Injuries

Bernard A. Holt, 222 W. 7th St., was taken to the hospital early Sunday after being found unconscious and bleeding from the facial wounds. The hospital said he suffered contusions of the left eye and abrasions of the forehead.

Holt was found by a serviceman who notified police. Patrolman David K. Mumaw said the only thing Holt could recall was that a man jumped from an auto and struck him. He gave officers a partial description of his assailant.

Monaca Man Dies In Crash

A Monaca man was killed and a woman was injured when they were thrown from an auto which ran off Route 51 about five miles north of Aliquippa Saturday night and struck a tree.

The victim is Elmer James Bohon, 39, of 664 Frankfort Rd., who was a passenger in a car driven by Manley Lee Cutshall, 41, of 474 Reno St., Rochester. Cutshall was not injured.

Virginia Dwyer of 2542 Beaver Ave., Monaca, was in "fair" condition at Presbyterian-University Hospital in Pittsburgh with multiple cuts suffered in the crash.

Another Beaver County car figured in a collision on Route 22 near Johnstown in Cambria County in which an Indiana, Pa., woman was killed.

Officers said she was alone in her auto when it was struck broadside at an intersection by a car driven by Woodrow W. Houp, 53, of Carmel St., Aliquippa. Houp was unhurt. His wife, Annabelle, 46, and a son, David, 16, were released after treatment for minor injuries.

We go to all the trouble of redesigning our interiors, improving our handling, and refining our Wide-Track ride, and some people buy us just for our looks.

Our new Executive Hardtop Coupe.

Just once we'd like to have people fall in love with the inside of our cars before they flip for the outside. Why, this year alone we've made available brand-new wraparound buckets. Profile bench seats. More rich, genuine walnut paneling. And nicer instrument clusters you've never seen.

We even had our engineers take our test cars apart piece by piece to come up with improvements that, incredibly enough, make our Pontiacs smoother, quieter, more enjoyable to drive.

Really, though—we don't care which feature gets you inside a new Pontiac, as long as it gets you there. And it will. At least judging by the number of Pontiacs you see on the road.

Everything's new in tiger country. Wide-Track Pontiac/'66

Drifting Barge Story Termed 'Erroneous'

A report that one or more barges was adrift on the Ohio River Saturday proved to be erroneous, police said today, after officers and a crew from the Parsons Coal Co. were unable to spot the runaways.

Officers said the barge may have been cut loose in the river to be picked up by a passing tow, or may have been towed by a small tug not visible to the passerby who notified firemen of the drifting barge.

After being advised of the report by firemen, police sent a cruiser along the river bank and the coal concern's tug was sent upstream to try to spot the barge.

3 Drivers Penalized By Wellsville Mayor

Clarence Campbell of 1310 Riverview St. was fined $15 and costs for driving left of center. He was cited Friday afternoon after his car hit another at the intersection of 3rd and Lisbon Sts., Wellsville.

John B. Saltsman of 610 Water St., Salineville, was fined $15 and costs for reckless operation. He was arrested Thursday morning after an accident at 13th and Commerce Sts., Wellsville.

John Corbin of Akron was fined $25 and costs for reckless operation. He was picked up Saturday morning. Paul Buck of Akron, a passenger in the Corbin car, was fined $15 and costs for intoxication. Police said he had an open bottle of liquor in the car.

Merle E. Bartram, son of Mrs. Ruth V. Bartram of 112 W. Center Alley, has been promoted to Spec. 4, while assigned to the 1st Armored Division at Ft. Hood.

He is a truck driver in Battery C, 1st Battalion, of the division's 6th Artillery. He entered the Army in April 1964.

Drifting Barge Story Termed 'Erroneous'

A report that one or more barges was adrift on the Ohio River Saturday proved to be erroneous, police said today, after officers and a crew from the Parsons Coal Co. were unable to spot the runaways.

Officers said the barge may have been cut loose in the river to be picked up by a passing tow, or may have been towed by a small tug not visible to the passerby who notified firemen of the drifting barge.

After being advised of the report by firemen, police sent a cruiser along the river bank and the coal concern's tug was sent upstream to try to spot the barge.

3 Drivers Penalized By Wellsville Mayor

Clarence Campbell of 1310 Riverview St. was fined $15 and costs for driving left of center. He was cited Friday afternoon after his car hit another at the intersection of 3rd and Lisbon Sts., Wellsville.

John B. Saltsman of 610 Water St., Salineville, was fined $15 and costs for reckless operation. He was arrested Thursday morning after an accident at 13th and Commerce Sts., Wellsville.

John Corbin of Akron was fined $25 and costs for reckless operation. He was picked up Saturday morning. Paul Buck of Akron, a passenger in the Corbin car, was fined $15 and costs for intoxication. Police said he had an open bottle of liquor in the car.

'Crash' Seen In Germany's Stamp Market Speculations

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Stamp collecting, a favorite hobby, has developed into a "miniature stock market" in West Germany.

That is the description of a Frankfurt expert who warns of an impending "crash" for thousands of investors.

Some stamps have increased in value up to 60,000 per cent within a few years, says Arnold Ebel, a man who has been in the business for 45 years.

Ebel, who recently held a $750,000 stamp auction here, says short-term speculators with considerable stockpiles soon will try to cash their profits, and the market will not be able to stand it.

"Part of the postwar issue is in a very dangerous price bracket," he comments. He predicts that postage stamps issued in the last five years will be first hit in the crash, as speculators have been buying up new issues by the sheet since 1960.

The situation has been aggravated by stamp firms that advertise philately as a worthwhile capital investment and "a hobby that relaxes and brings in big profits," he says.

Ebel says children who take up stamp-collecting are more interested in the profits they can make than in the fascination of the stamps themselves. Trading of stamps is a regular business at schools throughout West Germany.

The children — and probably a good number of adults — are under some illusions as to the real value of stamps, says Ebel.

Ebel maintains that the predicted crash will hit postwar European issues as well as other stamps that happen to be in fashion.

Stamps from less "fashionable" countries, especially old overseas dominions, are a safer investment in his view.

He estimates that millions of West Germans dabble in the philately business, but only a small percentage are genuine collectors, with specialized knowledge and the necessary finance to support them.

Stamps are always a good investment for people who study the market cautiously, and genuine collectors have nothing to fear from failing prices, Ebel says.

But to people who invest their savings in stamps in preference to normal stocks and shares, Ebel issues a warning:

"There is simply no room for short-term speculation.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I like cotton blankets around my feet, but not around my head and shoulders.

What to do? I halved a cotton blanket and a cotton sheet from right to left (not lengthwise), then sewed them together, half of one to half of the other.

When I make the bed, I put the cotton blanket halves at the foot, and presto—I have nice, warm, cotton blankets around my feet, legs and knees, and at the same time have nice, smooth, cotton sheets around my shoulders. No more white fuzz and lint in my hair.

I used an old blanket and sheet for the experiment, but I wouldn't hesitate to cut up new ones, now.

GEORGIA S.

DEAR HELOISE: By accident, I discovered an ordinary pencil eraser will clean and polish chrome plate trim inside our car!

Also keeps the kids busy on a long ride!

ALFRED L. COLEMAN.

And, I can just see those kids erasing away.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I don't know why this works, but it does!

If you put your box of brown sugar in your bread box, it will keep the bread more moist, and will keep the sugar from hardening.

RUTH C.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: I enjoy your hints so very much, so thought I would pass on one to your readers.

My husband laughed at me, but I found it works.

I got a new stair carpet last year, and, of course, they always wear in the middle first.

I find by going upstairs on one side, and down on the other, with my husband using the middle, that it all wears about the same!

MRS. H.B.C.

DEAR HELOISE: If you will give clothes a vigorous shake to untangle them before you put them into the dryer, they will dry in much less time.

HELEN WEHDE.

DEAR HELOISE: My boys are forever coming home with mud on their pants.

Can you please tell me how to remove these mud stains before I wash the pants?

BUSY MOTHER.

DEAR MOTHER: To remove mud from clothes, allow to dry, and brush well. Sponge with cold water. If any stains remain, sponge with a solution of one part alcohol to two parts water.

Always be sure to test a hidden spot first and to follow instructions and cautions on the container.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to share an easy way to get a perfect waistline when making a dress. This is especially good for short-waisted people, when patterns don't fit exactly.

After you have sewed the bodice together, put it on, and put a belt around you. Then mark on the bodice along the bottom of the belt.

When the skirt has been sewed on, along this mark the waistline seam will be under the belt. Fits perfectly.

MRS. RICHARD E. MORTON.

DEAR HELOISE: I wonder if your readers are aware that they aren't saving money when they use four 25 watt bulbs instead of one 100 watt bulb?

The 100 watt bulb will give 50 per cent more light than the four 25 watt ones—and only costs a few cents more!

Also, light, transparent lamp shades (rather than dark, lined ones) will give you more light for your money.

GEORGE HAYNES.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Ohio Girl, Youth Earn Awards At Exposition

CHICAGO (AP)—It was a dandy Sunday for two Ohio farm youngsters here—a girl honored at the International Live Stock Exposition and a boy gaining laurels at the 44th National 4-H Club Congress.

Edwin Berry, 18, of Lancaster, Ohio, was declared winner of a $500 educational scholarship.

Berry won his scholarship, sponsored by Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, for outstanding accomplishments in the 4-H tractor program.

Fund Need Cited For Great Lakes Pollution Control

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Great Lakes Commission's Pollution Control Committee has been warned that it had better pay more attention to funds to fight pollution.

The warning came Sunday night from Nicholas V. Oles, assistant attorney general of Michigan, whose address before the committee opened the three-day annual meeting of the commission, which includes representatives of eight states.

Oles told the committee it has the responsibility to recommend ways of producing revenue to fight water pollution. A discussion of financial incentives for pollution control was on the committee's agenda today.

The federal government has complained "that we are not doing the job," Oles said, then it "appropriates a piddling $120 million" for pollution control.

He said a special tax on water might be advocated to raise funds for pollution control.

States represented at the meeting are Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, New York, Indiana, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Trio Escapes Injury In Light Plane Crash

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A small plane was demolished when it crashed in a cemetery Sunday, but the three passengers—E. D. Miller, 49, and William G. Mullinnix, 34, both of Aberdeen, and Joseph R. Staggs, 50, of near Maysville, Ky. were unhurt.

Miller the pilot said he was trying to land at Tyler Airport at nearby Aberdeen, when strong winds caused the single-engine Cessna 170 to hit a tree and crash.

Today, when a product doesn't live up to its promise, who cares?

And when you take the trouble to express your disappointment, who cares?

Perhaps it's naive of us to expect everyone to care all the time. (We know how common it is to hear people say, "I couldn't care less.")

But we'd like to make one thing clear:

At A&P.

When you buy anything at A&P that doesn't meet your expectations, tell us. We'll do more than refund your money promptly. We'll turn around and go to work on the problem—and pursue the matter right to the source.

When a product doesn't keep its promise, we care.

And—when you take the time and trouble to tell us about it, we care. All the way to the top.

In fact, if you have any comments on any product we sell—we welcome you to write the top. We mean it. Write to:

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I like cotton blankets around my feet, but not around my head and shoulders.

What to do? I halved a cotton blanket and a cotton sheet from right to left (not lengthwise), then sewed them together, half of one to half of the other.

When I make the bed, I put the cotton blanket halves at the foot, and presto—I have nice, warm, cotton blankets around my feet, legs and knees, and at the same time have nice, smooth, cotton sheets around my shoulders. No more white fuzz and lint in my hair.

I used an old blanket and sheet for the experiment, but I wouldn't hesitate to cut up new ones, now.

GEORGIA S.

DEAR HELOISE: By accident, I discovered an ordinary pencil eraser will clean and polish chrome plate trim inside our car!

Also keeps the kids busy on a long ride!

ALFRED L. COLEMAN.

And, I can just see those kids erasing away.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I don't know why this works, but it does!

If you put your box of brown sugar in your bread box, it will keep the bread more moist, and will keep the sugar from hardening.

RUTH C.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: I enjoy your hints so very much, so thought I would pass on one to your readers.

My husband laughed at me, but I found it works.

I got a new stair carpet last year, and, of course, they always wear in the middle first.

I find by going upstairs on one side, and down on the other, with my husband using the middle, that it all wears about the same!

MRS. H.B.C.

DEAR HELOISE: If you will give clothes a vigorous shake to untangle them before you put them into the dryer, they will dry in much less time.

HELEN WEHDE.

DEAR HELOISE: My boys are forever coming home with mud on their pants.

Can you please tell me how to remove these mud stains before I wash the pants?

BUSY MOTHER.

DEAR MOTHER: To remove mud from clothes, allow to dry, and brush well. Sponge with cold water. If any stains remain, sponge with a solution of one part alcohol to two parts water.

Always be sure to test a hidden spot first and to follow instructions and cautions on the container.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to share an easy way to get a perfect waistline when making a dress. This is especially good for short-waisted people, when patterns don't fit exactly.

After you have sewed the bodice together, put it on, and put a belt around you. Then mark on the bodice along the bottom of the belt.

When the skirt has been sewed on, along this mark the waistline seam will be under the belt. Fits perfectly.

MRS. RICHARD E. MORTON.

DEAR HELOISE: I wonder if your readers are aware that they aren't saving money when they use four 25 watt bulbs instead of one 100 watt bulb?

The 100 watt bulb will give 50 per cent more light than the four 25 watt ones—and only costs a few cents more!

Also, light, transparent lamp shades (rather than dark, lined ones) will give you more light for your money.

GEORGE HAYNES.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Fund Need Cited For Great Lakes Pollution Control

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Great Lakes Commission's Pollution Control Committee has been warned that it had better pay more attention to funds to fight pollution.

The warning came Sunday night from Nicholas V. Oles, assistant attorney general of Michigan, whose address before the committee opened the three-day annual meeting of the commission, which includes representatives of eight states.

Oles told the committee it has the responsibility to recommend ways of producing revenue to fight water pollution. A discussion of financial incentives for pollution control was on the committee's agenda today.

The federal government has complained "that we are not doing the job," Oles said, then it "appropriates a piddling $120 million" for pollution control.

He said a special tax on water might be advocated to raise funds for pollution control.

States represented at the meeting are Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, New York, Indiana, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Trio Escapes Injury In Light Plane Crash

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A small plane was demolished when it crashed in a cemetery Sunday, but the three passengers—E. D. Miller, 49, and William G. Mullinnix, 34, both of Aberdeen, and Joseph R. Staggs, 50, of near Maysville, Ky. were unhurt.

Miller the pilot said he was trying to land at Tyler Airport at nearby Aberdeen, when strong winds caused the single-engine Cessna 170 to hit a tree and crash.

Ohio Girl, Youth Earn Awards At Exposition

CHICAGO (AP)—It was a dandy Sunday for two Ohio farm youngsters here—a girl honored at the International Live Stock Exposition and a boy gaining laurels at the 44th National 4-H Club Congress.

Edwin Berry, 18, of Lancaster, Ohio, was declared winner of a $500 educational scholarship.

Berry won his scholarship, sponsored by Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, for outstanding accomplishments in the 4-H tractor program.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Signs Of Creativity Appear Early

In the many studies lately reported on creativity, not much has been ascertained about creativity in the child from 2 to 5. One may see good examples of creation by the youngster in the nursery school or kindergarten, but anybody may observe the widest variety of creation by this child at home in hundreds of his daily activities. Besides, we may have rich opportunities at home to stimulate creativity in this little child.

Dr. Garry Myers

It's fun to watch the baby when he begins to handle such objects as a rattle, spoon or a block. Merely handling such an object, he hits different things, feeling the vibrations in his hand and hearing the sounds. Gradually, he experiments to discover new sounds he can make—he's creating them.

—:—

SITTING in his playpen or on the floor with several objects such as a pan, spoon or wooden blocks, he soon may notice different sounds he can make with them; also he may put one or several of the smaller objects into one of the containers, take them out with his hands or dump them out, even inventing new activities.

Given a mailing tube and a few smaller objects, he may choose to put these smaller things into the tube. Accidentally he may discover they move through the tube and come out. Then he may purposely put these small things into the tube and tip it, just to see them come out at the other end.

With only a few small blocks beside him, the child may create with them, putting two or more end to end or one on top of another so as to make a bridge. Before long he may build a tower all alone with several blocks.

BY THE time he is two, if given several pans of different sizes, he may spend a lot of time putting the smaller one into the larger, picking it out or dumping it out and repeating the performance. Later, with three or four pans of different sizes, he may fit all of them together or he may turn them upside down and learn to build a tower with them.

Still later, if you give him a nest of cubical boxes which fit into one another, he may keep trying to put some or all of them together.

Given a good set of blocks, this child may choose at three, four or five to build in all sorts of ways with them. You may be impressed with the growth in the nature and variety of his building. Also, if he has a few small toys like cars and trucks, he may incorporate them into his building; or he may push a few blocks together and call them a train, or push the cars about imagining he is doing all sorts of things with them. Certainly he is creating then, and nobody needs teach him to do so.

WHEN he is only two, he may at first just scribble on paper with a crayon, which is safer than a pencil. By and by he may begin to draw, giving his picture a name. Over the next several years, you will see his ability to create pictures developing.

As early as the age of two, or earlier, he may begin to talk about things not present as if they were present. How delightful to see his imagination developing — serving you imaginary tea in real or imagined containers, making up all sorts of yarns out of his head. If you accept and enjoy his fantasies and creations with words and things he will go on creating.

My bulletins, "Beginnings of Imagination" and "Stimulate Your Child's Imagination," may be secured by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

3 Elderly Women Die In Crash Of 2 Autos

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Three women residents of a golden age center in Cleveland were killed Sunday in a two - car crash at the intersection of U.S. 6 and Ohio 86, eight miles east of Chardon.

The dead, all widows, were Mrs. Ethel Ryan, 70, Mrs. Mabel Gill, 62, and Mrs. Minnie Nehrenz, 70. They were residents of the 14-story Cedar Apartments extension of the Lucia J. Bing Golden Age Center.

Plane's Crash Claims Niece Of Ohio Officer

MILFORD, Utah (AP)—One of four persons aboard an airplane spotted on a 12,000-foot mountain near here Sunday was a niece of Lt. Carl DeLau, chief of the Cleveland (Ohio) Police Department's homicide unit. There were no signs of life.

Nancy DeLau, 19, was aboard the two-engine Beechcraft Travelaire that left Los Angeles Nov. 15 and vanished in stormy weather en route to Salt Lake City and Minneapolis.

$350,000 Blaze Ruins Toledo Trucking Firm

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Damage exceeding $350,000 is the estimate from fire that ruined the Middlekauf Co. trucking terminal and offices overlooking the Detroit-Toledo Expressway in north Toledo Saturday night.

Gusty winds hampered firemen in their vain, five - hour battle against the flames that destroyed the building and contents plus 10 trucks. One fireman was injured, suffering a possible rib fracture.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Signs Of Creativity Appear Early

In the many studies lately reported on creativity, not much has been ascertained about creativity in the child from 2 to 5. One may see good examples of creation by the youngster in the nursery school or kindergarten, but anybody may observe the widest variety of creation by this child at home in hundreds of his daily activities. Besides, we may have rich opportunities at home to stimulate creativity in this little child.

Dr. Garry Myers

It's fun to watch the baby when he begins to handle such objects as a rattle, spoon or a block. Merely handling such an object, he hits different things, feeling the vibrations in his hand and hearing the sounds. Gradually, he experiments to discover new sounds he can make—he's creating them.

—:—

SITTING in his playpen or on the floor with several objects such as a pan, spoon or wooden blocks, he soon may notice different sounds he can make with them; also he may put one or several of the smaller objects into one of the containers, take them out with his hands or dump them out, even inventing new activities.

Given a mailing tube and a few smaller objects, he may choose to put these smaller things into the tube. Accidentally he may discover they move through the tube and come out. Then he may purposely put these small things into the tube and tip it, just to see them come out at the other end.

With only a few small blocks beside him, the child may create with them, putting two or more end to end or one on top of another so as to make a bridge. Before long he may build a tower all alone with several blocks.

BY THE time he is two, if given several pans of different sizes, he may spend a lot of time putting the smaller one into the larger, picking it out or dumping it out and repeating the performance. Later, with three or four pans of different sizes, he may fit all of them together or he may turn them upside down and learn to build a tower with them.

Still later, if you give him a nest of cubical boxes which fit into one another, he may keep trying to put some or all of them together.

Given a good set of blocks, this child may choose at three, four or five to build in all sorts of ways with them. You may be impressed with the growth in the nature and variety of his building. Also, if he has a few small toys like cars and trucks, he may incorporate them into his building; or he may push a few blocks together and call them a train, or push the cars about imagining he is doing all sorts of things with them. Certainly he is creating then, and nobody needs teach him to do so.

WHEN he is only two, he may at first just scribble on paper with a crayon, which is safer than a pencil. By and by he may begin to draw, giving his picture a name. Over the next several years, you will see his ability to create pictures developing.

As early as the age of two, or earlier, he may begin to talk about things not present as if they were present. How delightful to see his imagination developing — serving you imaginary tea in real or imagined containers, making up all sorts of yarns out of his head. If you accept and enjoy his fantasies and creations with words and things he will go on creating.

My bulletins, "Beginnings of Imagination" and "Stimulate Your Child's Imagination," may be secured by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

3 Elderly Women Die In Crash Of 2 Autos

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Three women residents of a golden age center in Cleveland were killed Sunday in a two - car crash at the intersection of U.S. 6 and Ohio 86, eight miles east of Chardon.

The dead, all widows, were Mrs. Ethel Ryan, 70, Mrs. Mabel Gill, 62, and Mrs. Minnie Nehrenz, 70. They were residents of the 14-story Cedar Apartments extension of the Lucia J. Bing Golden Age Center.

Plane's Crash Claims Niece Of Ohio Officer

MILFORD, Utah (AP)—One of four persons aboard an airplane spotted on a 12,000-foot mountain near here Sunday was a niece of Lt. Carl DeLau, chief of the Cleveland (Ohio) Police Department's homicide unit. There were no signs of life.

Nancy DeLau, 19, was aboard the two-engine Beechcraft Travelaire that left Los Angeles Nov. 15 and vanished in stormy weather en route to Salt Lake City and Minneapolis.

$350,000 Blaze Ruins Toledo Trucking Firm

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Damage exceeding $350,000 is the estimate from fire that ruined the Middlekauf Co. trucking terminal and offices overlooking the Detroit-Toledo Expressway in north Toledo Saturday night.

Gusty winds hampered firemen in their vain, five - hour battle against the flames that destroyed the building and contents plus 10 trucks. One fireman was injured, suffering a possible rib fracture.

Rugs, Rafters Harmonize

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Architectural interior designers are starring in a new home drama — the complete room, rugs to rafters.

Our present trend to architectural rooms beckons an individual who has the combined talents of a graduate architect and experienced interior designer.

He can hitch his imagination to all this know - how for a truly individual room, the ultimate goal of those who furnish on a budget or with a flat pocketbook.

"MORE PEOPLE are aware of the architecture of things. And it makes our job easier. They're not willing to settle for a room that doesn't offer it," says Louis Tregre, architect and interior designer. "Ten years ago they wouldn't have noticed the lack of baseboards or crown molding."

Some people wouldn't have noticed if there were no walls.

But today the first thing they look for in a new home is the architectural embellishments. Niches, pilasters, segmental arches, crown moldings are part of the language of people who want a fashionable home.

While it is true the average person may not know how to offset the bare look of a room, says Tregre, he knows he can't do it merely with furniture. It would be great, he says, if schools would teach a smattering of architecture — enough so the average person could understand what needs to be done.

As it is now even some experienced interior designers are afraid to move when they come face to face with architectural problems.

"Even someone on a small budget should have a background that gives a room a look of permanence, makes things look like they were made for a particular place," he points out.

A TREGRE room has a compatible look that extends from doors to moldings to niches. He may square off an archway in a door but devise another in the room.

An example is a little gem of a room done in emerald green. Walls are flocked in green. Close-up it resembles a fuzzy peach but looks like suede from a distance. Flocking is done in three steps. Walls are painted and a clear adhesive is applied. The flocking (lint-like substance is blown on with a small blower. Residue is removed by washing it off with a regular upholstery brush.

For architectural flair, Tregre used niches and mirrors. Panels of mirrors extended from crown molding, also mirrored. Or you could use an interesting stenciling with the stencils flocked in different colors, he says.

The cost of flocking a room is about the same as doing the room in an expensive wallpaper, he says.

He has used the flocking technique on furniture, and finds it particularly interesting on period designs with marble tops, but he is not suggesting it "for precious antiques."

One great innovation in this chic room is a dining area around a sofa that is achieved with four tables fitted around the arms and back. The lacquered - topped tables are 18-inches wide. The U-shaped effect is not really different from eating at a table.

Ex-Mayor Appointed Director In Fostoria

George Peeler had been Coburn's safety service director.

Tips Are Offered On How To Get Out Of 'Woods'

Question: I am getting ready to finish our attic, but can't make up my mind what kind of wood to use for the walls.

The more I look around at the many kinds of wood in the lumber yards, the more confused I get. And the opinions I get from friends don't help any

One tells me regular lumber panels 16" wide are best. Another suggests plywood, another hardboard, and still another says I can't use cedar indoors; that it is an outdoor wood. Can you help me?

Answer: There isn't too much we can tell you except to stop listening to your friends and make up your own mind.

If those friends have finished attics of their own, ask to see them and you'll get a better idea of what suits you best. And if they don't have them, try to find some place in your community were finished rooms are on display.

Lacking such a place, look for other areas where you might find wood - paneled rooms, such as a doctor's or an executive's office.

As for the friend who gave you that advice about cedar, he's all wrong.

While there was a time when cedar was only used outdoors, it was merely because of tradition and the fact that cedar is a wood which stands up well when exposed to the elements.

But it is being used quite often these days on the inside of a house. It can be stained and finished the same as most other woods.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average 2 to 5 degrees below normal southeastern half to near normal northwestern half of the state.

Representative normal high and low temperatures are Cleveland 41-26, Columbus 43-26, and Cincinnati 46-31.

The 'Space Age'

For The Children, That Is

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

There comes a time in every man's life when. . .

That room he thought was a den is turned into what is called a nursery. . .

Or that desk intended for looking over office papers at night becomes part of what is called a study center. . .

Or the basement finished so carefully to entertain adult guests is taken over by the teenagers for what is called dancing.

It's the chief reason why, when a couple is looking to buy a home, so much importance is placed on the expansion possibilities of the structure. Will there be a place for Jane or Junior when there is a Jane or Junior?

And if there already is a child, where will he or she be able to play and still be under the watchful eyes of mother while she is preparing the dinner?

As for a recreation room, while everybody agrees it is for family use, the wise parents know that it really will serve to give the youngsters a chance to play or talk with their friends without disturbing Mom and Pop.

Those same parents, if their wisdom is still working, will see to it that the recreation room is decorated with a kind of carefree toucn.

Light colors and even a little bizarre effect not only will please the youngsters, but often is a psychological tonic for the oldsters on those occasions when they are permitted to use the room. Painting one or more walls a sharp, bright color is one way to achieve a cheery atmosphere.

REALISM also is called for in the matter of furniture and even in the types of walls, ceilings and floors which are selected if the recreation room is created after the family moves in.

Sturdy furniture will serve the purpose at the sacrifice of beautiful but fragile fabrics. Asphalt or vinyl asbestos floor tile will stand up well, and these days can be purchased in sparkling designs.

Acoustical ceiling tile may be a wise choice if some of the noise must be kept inside the room. Walls of durable materials are preferable over those which can be easily dented or punctured.

In short, you might as well make the recreation room a place for the young. You'll have to do it sooner or later.

How To Recognize Quality In Your Bathroom Fixtures

Bathrooms are getting bigger, more beautiful and more numerous per home. They're rapidly becoming a "status symbol."

But in our search for bathroom beauty, important as that is, we shouldn't overlook the importance of quality in the three main fixtures — tub, lavatory and water closet.

Most tubs are enabeled cast iron or porcelain - enameled steel, according to the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago. But there are important differences between them. The best types have wide edges for seating comfort. They have flat instead of curved bottoms to lessen the chance of falls. Some have "ridges on the bottom to reduce slipperyness. Lengths and depths vary, some coming as high as 16 inches and as long as 5½ or 6 feet.

Of the three basic types of water closet, the best is the siphon - jet. It's quieter, has better flushing action and is easier to keep clean.

Lavatories come in a variety of shapes and sizes. You can get round, oval or rectangular bowls. They come with self-rims on chrome legs, or with the bowls set in countertops, with storage space beneath. The type you choose naturally depends on your personal taste and the space available in your bathroom.

As in everything else you buy, bathroom fixtures come in various qualities, and you get essentially what you pay for. Since a bathroom is intended to last a lifetime, it's always a good idea to buy the best. The difference in the total price usually makes little difference to your monthly payments if you pay for your new bathroom on the installment plan.

If you haven't visited a plumbing contractor's store lately, you may not realize what a large variety of plumbing fixtures you have to choose from. If you're thinking of remodeling or adding a bathroom, it's a good idea to pay him a visit first.

Ask him to explain the differences in quality as well as price. As a homemaker, be sure to ask him to explain the differences in various porcelain and enamel finishes. The better ones are much easier to keep clean.

$28 Million Given In West Virginia Poverty Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Virginia, whose economic plight served as one of the chief inspirations for what the administration calls its "War on Poverty", has received $28,630,515 in federal funds to improve the lot of the poor.

The Office of Economic Opportunity listed this total in a breakdown of anti-poverty campaign allocations as of Nov. 1.

West Virginia's portion of the federal fund total of more than $1 billion falls far below California's allocations of $95,339,061 and New York's of $62,533,275.

However, the Mountain State's population is less than two million compared with the populations of California and New York, both above 17 million.

Ohioan Reaches For Beer, Finds $6,000 In Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Cleveland man reached for a beer and found $6,000 in cash.

Frank J. Bartells, 55, bought a case of beer Wednesday night, put it in the trunk of his car and drove to West Virginia for a Thanksgiving visit.

Arriving at his mother-in-law's home in Wheeling, he reached into the case for a bottle and drew out $3,000. A search of the case revealed another $3,000.

He handed the money to his wife, Pearl, saying:

"Put this in your purse. I know who it belongs to and I'm going to take it back."

Bartells said the money belonged to the owners of an East Side bar, and he learned later that one of the bar owners had put the money in the beer case for reserve in cashing paychecks for employes of the Axle Division of Eaton Manufacturing Co. Bartells is a machinist there.

Bartells said one of the bar owners picked up the money when he returned home Friday and gave him a reward of more than $100.

Rugs, Rafters Harmonize

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Architectural interior designers are starring in a new home drama — the complete room, rugs to rafters.

Our present trend to architectural rooms beckons an individual who has the combined talents of a graduate architect and experienced interior designer.

He can hitch his imagination to all this know - how for a truly individual room, the ultimate goal of those who furnish on a budget or with a flat pocketbook.

"MORE PEOPLE are aware of the architecture of things. And it makes our job easier. They're not willing to settle for a room that doesn't offer it," says Louis Tregre, architect and interior designer. "Ten years ago they wouldn't have noticed the lack of baseboards or crown molding."

Some people wouldn't have noticed if there were no walls.

But today the first thing they look for in a new home is the architectural embellishments. Niches, pilasters, segmental arches, crown moldings are part of the language of people who want a fashionable home.

While it is true the average person may not know how to offset the bare look of a room, says Tregre, he knows he can't do it merely with furniture. It would be great, he says, if schools would teach a smattering of architecture — enough so the average person could understand what needs to be done.

As it is now even some experienced interior designers are afraid to move when they come face to face with architectural problems.

"Even someone on a small budget should have a background that gives a room a look of permanence, makes things look like they were made for a particular place," he points out.

A TREGRE room has a compatible look that extends from doors to moldings to niches. He may square off an archway in a door but devise another in the room.

Walls are flocked in green. Close-up it resembles a fuzzy peach but looks like suede from a distance. Flocking is done in three steps. Walls are painted and a clear adhesive is applied.

For architectural flair, Tregre used niches and mirrors. Panels of mirrors extended from crown molding, also mirrored. Or you could use an interesting stenciling with the stencils flocked in different colors, he says.

The cost of flocking a room is about the same as doing the room in an expensive wallpaper, he says.

He has used the flocking technique on furniture, and finds it particularly interesting on period designs with marble tops but he is not suggesting it "for precious antiques."

One great innovation in this chic room is a dining area around a sofa that is achieved with four tables fitted around the arms and back. The lacquered - topped tables are 18-inches wide. The U-shaped effect is not really different from eating at a table.

Ex-Mayor Appointed Director In Fostoria

George Peeler had been Coburn's safety service director.

Tips Are Offered On How To Get Out Of 'Woods'

Question: I am getting ready to finish our attic, but can't make up my mind what kind of wood to use for the walls.

The more I look around at the many kinds of wood in the lumber yards, the more confused I get. And the opinions I get from friends don't help any.

One tells me regular lumber panels 16" wide are best. Another suggests plywood, another hardboard, and still another says I can't use cedar indoors, that it is an outdoor wood. Can you help me?

Answer: There isn't too much we can tell you except to stop listening to your friends and make up your own mind.

If those friends have finished attics of their own, ask to see them and you'll get a better idea of what suits you best. And if they don't have them, try to find some place in your community were finished rooms are on display.

Lacking such a place, look for other areas where you might find wood - paneled rooms, such as a doctor's or an executive's office.

As for the friend who gave you that advice about cedar, he's all wrong.

While there was a time when cedar was only used outdoors, it was merely because of tradition and the fact that cedar is a wood which stands up well when exposed to the elements.

But it is being used quite often these days on the inside of a house. It can be stained and finished the same as most other woods.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average 2 to 5 degrees below normal southeastern half to near normal northwestern half of the state.

Representative normal high and low temperatures are Cleveland 41-26, Columbus 43-26, and Cincinnati 46-31.

For The Children, That Is

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

There comes a time in every man's life when. . .

That room he thought was a den is turned into what is called a nursery. . .

Or that desk intended for looking over office papers at night becomes part of what is called a study center. . .

Or the basement finished so carefully to entertain adult guests is taken over by the teenagers for what is called dancing.

It's the chief reason why, when a couple is looking to buy a home, so much importance is placed on the expansion possibilities of the structure. Will there be a place for Jane or Junior when there is a Jane or Junior?

And if there already is a child, where will he or she be able to play and still be under the watchful eyes of mother while she is preparing the dinner?

As for a recreation room, while everybody agrees it is for family use, the wise parents know that it really will serve to give the youngsters a chance to play or talk with their friends without disturbing Mom and Pop.

Those same parents, if their wisdom is still working, will see to it that the recreation room is decorated with a kind of carefree touch.

Light colors and even a little bizarre effect not only will please the youngsters, but often is a psychological tonic for the oldsters on those occasions when they are permitted to use the room. Painting one or more walls a sharp, bright color is one way to achieve a cheery atmosphere.

REALISM also is called for in the matter of furniture and even in the types of walls, ceilings and floors which are selected if the recreation room is created after the family moves in.

Sturdy furniture will serve the purpose at the sacrifice of beautiful but fragile fabrics. Asphalt or vinyl asbestos floor tile will stand up well, and these days can be purchased in sparkling designs.

Acoustical ceiling tile may be a wise choice if some of the noise must be kept inside the room. Walls of durable materials are preferable over those which can be easily dented or punctured.

In short, you might as well make the recreation room a place for the young. You'll have to do it sooner or later.

How To Recognize Quality In Your Bathroom Fixtures

Bathrooms are getting bigger, more beautiful and more numerous per home. They're rapidly becoming a "status symbol."

But in our search for bathroom beauty, important as that is, we shouldn't overlook the importance of quality in the three main fixtures — tub, lavatory and water closet.

Most tubs are enabeled cast iron or porcelain - enameled steel, according to the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago. But there are important differences between them. The best types have wide edges for seating comfort. They have flat instead of curved bottoms to lessen the chance of falls. Some have "ridges on the bottom to reduce slipperyness. Lengths and depths vary, some coming as high as 16 inches and as long as 5½ or 6 feet.

Of the three basic types of water closet, the best is the siphon - jet. It's quieter, has better flushing action and is easier to keep clean.

Lavatories come in a variety of shapes and sizes. You can get round, oval or rectangular bowls. They come with self-rims on chrome legs, or with the bowls set in countertops, with storage space beneath. The type you choose naturally depends on your personal taste and the space available in your bathroom.

As in everything else you buy, bathroom fixtures come in various qualities, and you get essentially what you pay for. Since a bathroom is intended to last a lifetime, it's always a good idea to buy the best. The difference in the total price usually makes little difference to your monthly payments if you pay for your new bathroom on the installment plan.

If you haven't visited a plumbing contractor's store lately, you may not realize what a large variety of plumbing fixtures you have to choose from. If you're thinking of remodeling or adding a bathroom, it's a good idea to pay him a visit first.

Ask him to explain the differences in quality as well as price. As a homemaker, be sure to ask him to explain the differences in various porcelain and enamel finishes. The better ones are much easier to keep clean.

7.3% Increase In Steel Sales Seen In 1966

CLEVELAND (AP) — In its annual forecast today, based on a survey of 7,000 metalworking executives, Steel Magazine predicted a 7.3 per cent improvement in sales next year over 1965.

Of the managers responding, 79 per cent expect better business, Steel said, but only 58 per cent believe profits will improve.

Some of the managers responding, 79 per cent expect better business, Steel said, but only 58 per cent believe profits will improve.

Some of the projections of the survey are: a 3.5 per cent rise in defense production; a 3.4 per cent increase in manufacturing costs and price increases averaging 2.1 per cent.

Respondents also project a 3 per cent increase in employment and a 4.6 per cent buildup in capital expenditures

The metal working weekly said talks have begun in Washington to rebuild the rapport between the industry and the Johnson Administration.

The talks are stressing further depreciation reform and methods of helping industry to expand its exports, the metal working weekly said.

Steel said "issues" between government and the industry next year could involve overtime, unemployment compensation, incentives or penalties to solve the air and water pollution crises and wage-price stability.

Meanwhile, U. S. steel producers are chalking up an 11-month record this week — even though November production will be the lowest since December 1963, the magazine said.

More tonnage for ingots and casting will have been poured through November than in any comparable period of previous years, Steel said.

Further, the yearly record will be matched if the December yield is only 5.5 million tons, but Steel predicts it will top that figure by a considerable amount.

"Production continues to show recovery from the doldrums," the magazine said. It estimated output last week edged up 2,090,000 net tons, despite the Thanksgiving holiday. It marked the third consecutive week of the upward movement.

Coast Guard Resumes Probe Of Ship Sinking

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Coast Guard investigators, fresh from a tour of a sister ship of the Yarmouth Castle, resume their inquiry today into the sinking of the cruise liner with the loss of 89 lives.

Hearing sessions were suspended last week so that Rear Adm. Louis M. Thayer and his panel could re-enact the moves that Capt. Byron Voutsinas testified he had made at the time of the sinking Nov. 13 in the Bahamas.

Inventor Dies At 88

TORONTO (AP)—Col. George G. Nasmith, 8, inventor of a gas mask during World War I, died Sunday after a lengthy illness.

The first tourist submarine operated on Lake Geneva during the recent Swiss Exposition. The craft, a mesoscaph designed by Jacques Piccard, took up to 40 passengers at a time to depths averaging 300 feet. It carried 25,000 people during 850 dives.

Paint A 'Holiday Mood'

Dress Up Dwelling For Christmas

Why not dress up your home for the holidays? It will heighten your pride in your dwelling when welcoming friends and relatives and be a pleasant surprise for the family.

If your living room appears dull and uninspiring, transform it into an inviting and decorative area of your home with a fresh coat of color. Choose one of the new pastel shades that are now so popular. Your Christmas tree and decorations will seem twice as bright in this new setting.

WHEN DRESSING up your holiday house, don't neglect the front door and foyer. Since your guests gain their first impression of your household from your front door, be sure to rid it of unsightly paint-less patches, scuff marks, scratches, fingerprints, and normal damages due to weather. A fresh coat of paint will brighten the threshold of your holiday house and provide a gleaming backdrop for your Christmas door decoration.

If an over-all paint job is not due at the moment, don't forget to touch up shabby windowsills, woodwork, radiators (When the heat's off, naturally), and, if you have a fireplace, the mantlepiece. Yuletide decorations often are centered around windows and mantles, so make sure they are in tiptop shape.

Don't limit your sprucing up to the living room. Surprise teen-agers by letting them paint their rooms in their favorite color schemes. Perhaps they would like to invite their friends over to help and make a "painting party" of it.

AND, OF course, don't forget the kitchen, bathroom and master bedroom.

The first step in dressing up your holiday house is to consult your local quality dealer, advises the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. He will be happy to help you select the proper coatings to use to obtain the finish you desire. Different surfaces call for different treatments and your dealer can be most helpful in advising you.

Need More Closet Space? Utilize Area Under Stairs

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Most modern houses with basements usually have stairs leading to that area.

Nine times out of 10 the stairs are built of heavy, rough, planks, and they offer the perfect frame for a roomy closet or storage space. For a very few dollars in cash and three or four hours time the home owner could build this himself.

The work involved starts with laying two 2 x 4s on the floor directly beneath the carriage or slanting side pieces of the stair. The next step consists of erecting 2 x 4 wall studs which rest on the floor pieces and run up to and under the stringers. Three or four of these are enough on each side of the closet.

The final step consists of sheathing over the studs with plywood or composition board and nailing it into the studs. The opening into the closet may be the full width of the stairs or reduced by a foot or so on each side. A door is optional.

There are scores of uses for such an enclosure. Some are used as a shelved space for jars or preserves, some for liquor or wine closets, others for records which must be kept away from heat and still others for luggage or other bulky equipment.

Where there is the slightest dampness present in the basement, a floor should be installed by laying 2 x 4s inside between the walls and flooring it over with boards or heavy plywood.

Shelves are easily arranged by nailing strips of 2 x 2 wood to the inner faces of the studs and laying ordinary shelving across them. It should be noted that the lower space should allow for head room to accommodate large items such as bags and valises and the upper shelves spaced to receive smaller lighter articles.

Trial Launched For 3 Klansmen In Rights Killing

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Federal prosecutors put three Ku Klux Klansmen on trial today on charges resulting from the killing of a white civil rights worker, Viola Gregg Liuzzo.

Each of the Klan members — one of them already acquitted in state court, the others still awaiting trial — could be sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $5,000 under the indictment based on an old law used mostly in the past to safeguard voting and property rights.

Nowhere in the indictment is there any mention of the slaying of Mrs. Liuzzo, a Detroit housewife, which touched off the prosecutions in both state and federal court.

The Klansmen — Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 22, of Fairfield, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala. — are charged with conspiring to injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate U.S. citizens during the civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery last spring.

Mrs. Liuzzo, mother of five children and wife of Anthony Liuzzo, a Teamsters Union official, was shuttling other marchers back to Selma by car when she was shot to death the night of March 25.

The three Klan members were indicted on state murder charges in addition to the federal charge.

Change Eyed At Chillicothe Reformatory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Prison Bureau officials said today a study is under way of the Chillicothe (Ohio) Reformatory to see whether a change in its utilization is advisable.

Myrl Alexander, bureau director, emphasized that the checkup of the Chillicothe Reformatory is part of an overall review of operations at federal penal institutions throughout the nation.

Observing that it may be six months before recommendations are drafted, Alexander said the study could lead to conversion of the Ohio Reformatory into a prison for older offenders. At present most of those in Chillicothe are between 18 and 23 years of age.

Authorized in 1926 and constructed soon thereafter, the Chillicothe Reformatory was used primarily for young prohibition law violators at first and now houses about 1,000 inmates. It has capacity for 1,350.

"The trend now is to place younger offenders in smaller centers, where the population is about 500 or less," Alexander said.

"The Chillicothe Reformatory is spread out over a half mile and is cumbersome, so it might be that we will find it better to transfer these offenders elsewhere.

"This study, of which Chillicothe is only a part, goes into the kind of program to be followed at various places and what is best for the various types of prisoners, such as the habituals, the long-term prisoners and those guilty of relatively less serious offenses."

The over-all federal prison bureau population has dropped from approximately 24,400 three years ago to about 22,000 today, said Alexander, so the system now has an excess of more than 2,000 beds.

The bureau director made this observation in response to a question whether there is anything to a report the Chillicothe reformatory may be closed by 1967.

He went on to say that it is possible that a shutdown could be ordered at Chillicothe or elsewhere. Discussing its possible utilization for older offenders, he said they would be prisoners who do not require maximum security confinement and would be able to make use of the chair-manufacturing, farming and other facilities already in operation at the reformatory.

Satellites Orbited By U.S., Canada

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Two new satellites — the Canadian Alouette 2 and the American Explorer 31 — raced side-by-side through space today, placed in orbit by a single booster.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said initial data from Sunday night's launch at this West Coast base indicated that the satellites reached a near perfect orbit.

The spokesman said the satellites will circle the earth once every two hours and four minutes, reaching an apogee or high point of 1,980 miles and a perigee or low point of 315 miles above the earth.

7.3% Increase In Steel Sales Seen In 1966

CLEVELAND (AP) — In its annual forecast today, based on a survey of 7,000 metalworking executives, Steel Magazine predicted a 7.3 per cent improvement in sales next year over 1965.

Of the managers responding, 79 per cent expect better business, Steel said, but only 58 per cent believe profits will improve.

Some of the managers responding, 79 per cent expect better business, Steel said, but only 58 per cent believe profits will improve.

Some of the projections of the survey are: a 3.5 per cent rise in defense production; a 3.4 per cent increase in manufacturing costs and price increases averaging 2.1 per cent.

Respondents also project a 3 per cent increase in employment and a 4.6 per cent buildup in capital expenditures

The metal working weekly said talks have begun in Washington to rebuild the rapport between the industry and the Johnson Administration.

The talks are stressing further depreciation reform and methods of helping industry to expand its exports, the metal working weekly said.

Steel said "issues" between government and the industry next year could involve overtime, unemployment compensation, incentives or penalties to solve the air and water pollution crises and wage-price stability.

Meanwhile, U. S. steel producers are chalking up an 11-month record this week — even though November production will be the lowest since December 1963, the magazine said.

More tonnage for ingots and casting will have been poured through November than in any comparable period of previous years, Steel said.

Further, the yearly record will be matched if the December yield is only 5.5 million tons, but Steel predicts it will top that figure by a considerable amount.

"Production continues to show recovery from the doldrums," the magazine said. It estimated output last week edged up 2,090,000 net tons, despite the Thanksgiving holiday. It marked the third consecutive week of the upward movement.

Coast Guard Resumes Probe Of Ship Sinking

Hearing sessions were suspended last week so that Rear Adm. Louis M. Thayer and his panel could re-enact the moves that Capt. Byron Voutsinas testified he had made at the time of the sinking Nov. 13 in the Bahamas.

Inventor Dies At 88

TORONTO (AP)—Col. George G. Nasmith, 8, inventor of a gas mask during World War I, died Sunday after a lengthy illness.

The first tourist submarine operated on Lake Geneva during the recent Swiss Exposition. The craft, a mesoscaph designed by Jacques Piccard, took up to 40 passengers at a time to depths averaging 300 feet. It carried 25,000 people during 850 dives.

Dress Up Dwelling For Christmas

Why not dress up your home for the holidays? It will heighten your pride in your dwelling when welcoming friends and relatives and be a pleasant surprise for the family.

If your living room appears dull and uninspiring, transform it into an inviting and decorative area of your home with a fresh coat of color. Choose one of the new pastel shades that are now so popular. Your Christmas tree and decorations will seem twice as bright in this new setting.

WHEN DRESSING up your holiday house, don't neglect the front door and foyer. Since your guests gain their first impression of your household from your front door, be sure to rid it of unsightly paint-less patches, scuff marks, scratches, fingerprints, and normal damages due to weather. A fresh coat of paint will brighten the threshold of your holiday house and provide a gleaming backdrop for your Christmas door decoration.

If an over-all paint job is not due at the moment, don't forget to touch up shabby windowsills, woodwork, radiators (When the heat's off, naturally), and, if you have a fireplace, the mantlepiece. Yuletide decorations often are centered around windows and mantles, so make sure they are in tiptop shape.

Don't limit your sprucing up to the living room. Surprise teen-agers by letting them paint their rooms in their favorite color schemes. Perhaps they would like to invite their friends over to help and make a "painting party" of it.

AND, OF course, don't forget the kitchen, bathroom and master bedroom.

The first step in dressing up your holiday house is to consult your local quality dealer, advises the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. He will be happy to help you select the proper coatings to use to obtain the finish you desire. Different surfaces call for different treatments and your dealer can be most helpful in advising you.

Need More Closet Space? Utilize Area Under Stairs

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Most modern houses with basements usually have stairs leading to that area.

Nine times out of 10 the stairs are built of heavy, rough, planks, and they offer the perfect frame for a roomy closet or storage space. For a very few dollars in cash and three or four hours time the home owner could build this himself.

The work involved starts with laying two 2 x 4s on the floor directly beneath the carriage or slanting side pieces of the stair. The next step consists of erecting 2 x 4 wall studs which rest on the floor pieces and run up to and under the stringers. Three or four of these are enough on each side of the closet.

The final step consists of sheathing over the studs with plywood or composition board and nailing it into the studs. The opening into the closet may be the full width of the stairs or reduced by a foot or so on each side. A door is optional.

There are scores of uses for such an enclosure. Some are used as a shelved space for jars or preserves, some for liquor or wine closets, others for records which must be kept away from heat and still others for luggage or other bulky equipment.

Where there is the slightest dampness present in the basement, a floor should be installed by laying 2 x 4s inside between the walls and flooring it over with boards or heavy plywood.

Shelves are easily arranged by nailing strips of 2 x 2 wood to the inner faces of the studs and laying ordinary shelving across them. It should be noted that the lower space should allow for head room to accommodate large items such as bags and valises and the upper shelves spaced to receive smaller lighter articles.

Trial Launched For 3 Klansmen In Rights Killing

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Federal prosecutors put three Ku Klux Klansmen on trial today on charges resulting from the killing of a white civil rights worker, Viola Gregg Liuzzo.

Each of the Klan members — one of them already acquitted in state court, the others still awaiting trial — could be sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $5,000 under the indictment based on an old law used mostly in the past to safeguard voting and property rights.

Nowhere in the indictment is there any mention of the slaying of Mrs. Liuzzo, a Detroit housewife, which touched off the prosecutions in both state and federal court.

The Klansmen — Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 22, of Fairfield, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala. — are charged with conspiring to injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate U.S. citizens during the civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery last spring.

Mrs. Liuzzo, mother of five children and wife of Anthony Liuzzo, a Teamsters Union official, was shuttling other marchers back to Selma by car when she was shot to death the night of March 25.

The three Klan members were indicted on state murder charges in addition to the federal charge.

Change Eyed At Chillicothe Reformatory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Prison Bureau officials said today a study is under way of the Chillicothe (Ohio) Reformatory to see whether a change in its utilization is advisable.

Myrl Alexander, bureau director, emphasized that the checkup of the Chillicothe Reformatory is part of an overall review of operations at federal penal institutions throughout the nation.

Observing that it may be six months before recommendations are drafted, Alexander said the study could lead to conversion of the Ohio Reformatory into a prison for older offenders. At present most of those in Chillicothe are between 18 and 23 years of age.

Authorized in 1926 and constructed soon thereafter, the Chillicothe Reformatory was used primarily for young prohibition law violators at first and now houses about 1,000 inmates. It has capacity for 1,350.

"The trend now is to place younger offenders in smaller centers, where the population is about 500 or less," Alexander said.

"The Chillicothe Reformatory is spread out over a half mile and is cumbersome, so it might be that we will find it better to transfer these offenders elsewhere.

"This study, of which Chillicothe is only a part, goes into the kind of program to be followed at various places and what is best for the various types of prisoners, such as the habituals, the long-term prisoners and those guilty of relatively less serious offenses."

The over-all federal prison bureau population has dropped from approximately 24,400 three years ago to about 22,000 today, said Alexander, so the system now has an excess of more than 2,000 beds.

The bureau director made this observation in response to a question whether there is anything to a report the Chillicothe reformatory may be closed by 1967.

He went on to say that it is possible that a shutdown could be ordered at Chillicothe or elsewhere. Discussing its possible utilization for older offenders, he said they would be prisoners who do not require maximum security confinement and would be able to make use of the chair-manufacturing, farming and other facilities already in operation at the reformatory.

Midland Passes First Test In 81-40 Rout Of Montour

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Though Coach Hank Kuzma indicated earlier that he didn't have too much this season, his Midland Leopards had more than enough for a visiting Montour five in rolling to an 81-40 rout before some 1,500 first-nighters at the Midland gym Saturday night.

It was the opener for the defending Pennsylvania state champs and all Midland records were secure for another game. The Leopards pushed their victory streak to 29 and their home floor streak to 61.

OF COURSE the remainder of the schedule won't be as easy as Saturday night and Kuzma realizes that, but at any rate the Midland coach got a good look at quite a few substitututes as he tried various combinations against Montour.

Midland led from the opening tipoff as 12 different Leopard players shared in the scoring, with veteran Brent Lake, the 6-3 senior, having the night expected of him in leading the way with 22 points.

★ ★ ★ Lake Scores 22 In 29th Straight ★ ★ ★

THE SCORING of Lake and Bruce Humbert, who chipped in with 14 out of the pivot, plus the aggressive rebounding of Rich Mahurt were the highlights of the Leopards' first test of the campaign.

Humbert is a 6-3 junior and Mahurt, another junior, added 11 points to the attack while grabing his share of rebounds.

The Leopards may have a brother act in the Lake's, with Brent's brother Jeff finding the range for 11 points as he hit on timely buckets from the outside.

The Leopards led from the opening tipoff and at the end of the first quarter were resting on a 27-7 margin.

With Brent Lake firing in 15 points in the first half, Midland climbed to a 45-15 lead at halftime and charged to a 64-24 advantage by the end of three peroids.

OVERALL, Midland hit the hoop consistently for an opening game with a 45 per cent shooting mark. The Leopards, who were known for a well fortified defense last season, put up another good defensive effort as Montour found it difficult to get the good shot away.

THE TOP scorer for Montour was Terry Schnorr, who pumped in 18 points, with 11 coming in the fourth quarter.

Kuzma's team hit on 10 of 22 attempts in the first quarter, while limiting Montour to only one field goal for the first period and four for the half.

The Leopards will return to action Friday, visiting Wellsville, where the Tigers will be playing their opening game of the campaign.

Browns Clinch Eastern Title At Pittsburgh, 42-21

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1965 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 22

Brown Tallies 4, Gains 128 Yards

By HAL BROCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The yardage machine that wears number 32 and operates out of the Cleveland Browns' backfield is like any other piece of complicated machinery. It takes time to warm up.

So Jimmy Brown spent the first 30 minutes of Sunday's National Football League game against Pittsburgh doing less than spectacular damage to the Steelers. He managed just 19 yards in seven carries and Cleveland's lead was only 7-0 at halftime.

But 30 minutes is more time than Brown gives most of Cleveland's NFL opponents so he didn't waste any after the intermission.

The bruising fullback took off on a 67-yard sprint on the first play from scrimmage in the third period. Five plays later he barreled into the end zone with the first of his four touchdowns for the day and the Browns were on their way to a 42-21 romp and their second consecutive Eastern Conference crown.

Brown carried 13 times in the second half, gaining 128 yards — a full game's work for most good runners.

The Browns needed help to clinch the Eastern crown and got it from Chicago and Philadelphia. The Bears whipped New York 35-14 and the Eagles edged St. Louis 28-24, eliminating the only clubs who still had a shot at Cleveland.

In the Western Conference, Los Angeles gave a big boost to Baltimore's hopes for a second straight championship by upsetting No. 1 contender Green Bay 21-10. In other NFL games Sunday, Washington nipped Dallas 34-31 and San Francisco walloped Minnesota 45-24. Baltimore and Detroit, who played to a 24-24 tie on Thanksgiving Day, were idle.

Gale Sayers, who seems a cinch for Rookie of the Year honors, set an NFL record for freshmen with his 13th and 14th touchdowns of the season as the Bears ripped the Giants. Sayers scored on runs of 15 and 45 yards.

Norm Snead and Pete Retzlaff put on a great passing and catching show as the Eagles caught the Cardinals. Retzlaff caught nine passes for 148 yards and three TDs, the last one a 10-yarder with less than three minutes to play. Snead, who hit on 15 of 31 for 248 yards, marched the Eagles from their own 27 for the winning score, hitting Retzlaff three times before the TD pitch.

Bruce Gossett kicked four field goals, three of them from better than 40 yards, as the Rams dropped Green Bay 1½ games back of the Colts in the West with just three games to play.

The victory snapped an eight-game Los Angeles losing string that had covered two months.

Sonny Jurgensen pitched Washington to a pair of touchdowns in the final four minutes as the Redskins overtook Dallas. Jurgensen, who completed 26 of 42 passes for 411 yards, used just eight plays for the two marches downfield, covering 64 yards in the first series and 80 in the second.

John Brodie completed 10 of 19 passes against Minnesota, half of them for touchdowns. The five scoring pitches made it easy for San Francisco as the Vikings suffered their third straight one-sided loss.

CLEVELAND BROWNS' Leroy Kelly is off and running for a touchdown as he struggles loose from a low tackle by Steelers' Frank Lambert. Kelly went 56 yards with the punt return in the second quarter. (UPI Telephoto)

Only First-Round Choices Unsigned

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writers

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League has taken a quick lead over the American League in signing draft choices. but the major battles in the checkbook war figure to be fought over two obviously talented and plainly uncommitted players — Tommy Nobis and Jim Grabowski.

Nobis, the Texas linebacker with a 20-inch neck, and Grabowski, the Illinois fullback with Red Grange's records, are the only remaining competitive first-round choices unsigned since the bidding war began Saturday while the drafts were being conducted.

Long before the AFL ended selecting after 17 hours and 59 minutes and the NFL closed down draft headquarters after 30 hours and 50 minutes, it became evident that some players were committed to certain teams — before the draft — and were therefore being avoided by others.

The most significant factors leading to that interpretation were three-fold: The length of time some teams took before making first-round selections, the low number of duplicated first-round choices and the quick rash of signings — 28 in the NFL and seven in the AFL.

ILLINOIS FULLBACK Jim Grabowski, one the most sought after college players, has more to do than just sign footballs. Grabowski has the pleasant task of deciding with what team he will sign a contract. He has been selected No. 1 choice by Miami of the AFL and by Green Bay of the NFL. (UPI Telephoto)

Only three players were picked by both leagues on the first round, Nobis, Grabowski and Purdue tackle Jerry Shay, who signed with the NFL's Minnesota Vikings after being picked in the AFL draft by Denver.

Nobis, tapped as the No. 1 pick in the NFL draft by the new Atlanta Falcons, also was picked on the first round by Houston. Grabowski, the No. 1 pick in the AFL draft by the new Miami Dolphins, also was selected on the first round by Green Bay.

And now the bidding starts.

Beisler, Mack and Gillingham were not selected in the AFL draft.

Besides Nobis and Grabowski, four other NFL first-round choices are not signed. Oklahoma linebacker Carl McAdams, picked by St. Louis; Princeton kicker Charlie Gogolak, tapped by Washington; Missouri tackle Francis Peay, selected by New York, and Massachusetts end Milt Morin, taken by Cleveland.

The AFL signed three first-round picks, Michigan tackle Bill Yearby by New York, Minnesota end Aaron Brown by Kansas City and Kentucky halfback Rodger Bird by Oakland.

Georgetown Boy Gets Deer Early

A 15 - year - old Georgetown youth received credit for one of the first deer kills as the Pennsylvania deer season opened this morning at 7.

At 7:35 a.m., Gregory Butcher, son of Mrs. Geneva Butcher of Georgetown, killed a five point buck in the vicinity of the Hill Rd. between Hookstown and Georgetown. He used a 3.08 Savage.

It was beginner's luck for young Butcher who was hunting deer for the first time. He is a student at South Side High School.

Dark Takes Over Helm Of Last-Place Athletics

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Alvin Dark promises to provide Kansas City with an exciting new look in 1966 when he attempts to guide the Athletics out of the American League cellar.

The new manager of the A's, operating in the American League for the first time after a star-studded career as a player and manager in the National League, says Kansas City will "run and run and run."

Dark says he considers the opportunity to take over a last-place club "a real challenge" after managing San Francisco to four first-division finishes in his only other managerial stint.

The naming of Dark a few minutes after the announcement that Haywood Sullivan was quitting as manager of the A's to join the front office of the Boston Red Sox highlighted the opening of the annual meeting of major and minor league baseball officials.

Drafting of minor league players was scheduled today with Kansas City getting the first draft choice and the New York Mets the second.

Most clubs indicated they hoped to pick up one or two young prospects.

Midland Passes First Test In 81-40 Rout Of Montour

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Though Coach Hank Kuzma indicated earlier that he didn't have too much this season, his Midland Leopards had more than enough for a visiting Montour five in rolling to an 81-40 rout before some 1,500 first-nighters at the Midland gym Saturday night.

It was the opener for the defending Pennsylvania state champs and all Midland records were secure for another game. The Leopards pushed their victory streak to 29 and their home floor streak to 61.

OF COURSE the remainder of the schedule won't be as easy as Saturday night and Kuzma realizes that, but at any rate the Midland coach got a good look at quite a few substitututes as he tried various combinations against Montour.

Midland led from the opening tipoff as 12 different Leopard players shared in the scoring, with veteran Brent Lake, the 6-3 senior, having the night expected of him in leading the way with 22 points.

THE SCORING of Lake and Bruce Humbert, who chipped in with 14 out of the pivot, plus the aggressive rebounding of Rich Mahurt were the highlights of the Leopards' first test of the campaign.

Humbert is a 6-3 junior and Mahurt, another junior, added 11 points to the attack while grabing his share of rebounds.

The Leopards may have a brother act in the Lake's, with Brent's brother Jeff finding the range for 11 points as he hit on timely buckets from the outside.

The Leopards led from the opening tipoff and at the end of the first quarter were resting on a 27-7 margin.

With Brent Lake firing in 15 points in the first half, Midland climbed to a 45-15 lead at halftime and charged to a 64-24 advantage by the end of three peroids.

OVERALL, Midland hit the hoop consistently for an opening game with a 45 per cent shooting mark. The Leopards, who were known for a well fortified defense last season, put up another good defensive effort as Montour found it difficult to get the good shot away.

The visiting Spartans made 12 of 45 shots for a 26 per cent shooting average.

THE TOP scorer for Montour was Terry Schnorr, who pumped in 18 points, with 11 coming in the fourth quarter.

Kuzma's team hit on 10 of 22 attempts in the first quarter, while limiting Montour to only one field goal for the first period and four for the half.

The Leopards will return to action Friday, visiting Wellsville, where the Tigers will be playing their opening game of the campaign.

Only First-Round Choices Unsigned

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writers

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League has taken a quick lead over the American League in signing draft choices, but the major battles in the checkbook war figure to be fought over two obviously talented and plainly uncommitted players — Tommy Nobis and Jim Grabowski.

Nobis, the Texas linebacker with a 20-inch neck, and Grabowski, the Illinois fullback with Red Grange's records, are the only remaining competitive first-round choices unsigned since the bidding war began Saturday while the drafts were being conducted.

Long before the AFL ended selecting after 17 hours and 59 minutes and the NFL closed down draft headquarters after 30 hours and 50 minutes, it became evident that some players were committed to certain teams — before the draft — and were therefore being avoided by others.

The most significant factors leading to that interpretation were three-fold: The length of time some teams took before making first-round selections, the low number of duplicated first-round choices and the quick rash of signings — 28 in the NFL and seven in the AFL.

ILLINOIS FULLBACK Jim Grabowski, one the most sought after college players, has more to do than just sign footballs. Grabowski has the pleasant task of deciding with what team he will sign a contract. He has been selected No. 1 choice by Miami of the AFL and by Green Bay of the NFL. (UPI Telephoto)

Only three players were picked by both leagues on the first round, Nobis, Grabowski and Purdue tackle Jerry Shay, who signed with the NFL's Minnesota Vikings after being picked in the AFL draft by Denver.

Nobis, tapped as the No. 1 pick in the NFL draft by the new Atlanta Falcons, also was picked on the first round by Houston. Grabowski, the No. 1 pick in the AFL draft by the new Miami Dolphins, also was selected on the first round by Green Bay.

And now the bidding starts.

Besides Nobis and Grabowski, four other NFL first-round choices are not signed, Oklahoma linebacker Carl McAdams, picked by St. Louis; Princeton kicker Charlie Gogolak, tapped by Washington; Missouri tackle Francis Peay, selected by New York, and Massachusetts end Milt Morin, taken by Cleveland.

The AFL signed three first-round picks, Michigan tackle Bill Yearby by New York, Minnesota end Aaron Brown by Kansas City and Kentucky halfback Rodger Bird by Oakland.

Brown Tallies 4, Gains 128 Yards

By HAL BROCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The yardage machine that wears number 32 and operates out of the Cleveland Browns' backfield is like any other piece of complicated machinery. It takes time to warm up.

So Jimmy Brown spent the first 30 minutes of Sunday's National Football League game against Pittsburgh doing less than spectacular damage to the Steelers. He managed just 19 yards in seven carries and Cleveland's lead was only 7-0 at halftime.

But 30 minutes is more time than Brown gives most of Cleveland's NFL opponents so he didn't waste any after the intermission.

The bruising fullback took off on a 67-yard sprint on the first play from scrimmage in the third period. Five plays later he barreled into the end zone with the first of his four touchdowns for the day and the Browns were on their way to a 42-21 romp and their second consecutive Eastern Conference crown.

Brown carried 13 times in the second half, gaining 128 yards — a full game's work for most good runners.

The Browns needed help to clinch the Eastern crown and got it from Chicago and Philadelphia. The Bears whipped New York 35-14 and the Eagles edged St. Louis 28-24, eliminating the only clubs who still had a shot at Cleveland.

In the Western Conference, Los Angeles gave a big boost to Baltimore's hopes for a second straight championship by upsetting No. 1 contender Green Bay 21-10. In other NFL games Sunday, Washington nipped Dallas 34-31 and San Francisco walloped Minnesota 45-24. Baltimore and Detroit, who played to a 24-24 tie on Thanksgiving Day, were idle.

Gale Sayers, who seems a cinch for Rookie of the Year honors, set an NFL record for freshmen with his 13th and 14th touchdowns of the season as the Bears ripped the Giants. Sayers scored on runs of 15 and 45 yards.

Norm Snead and Pete Retzlaff put on a great passing and catching show as the Eagles caught the Cardinals. Retzlaff caught nine passes for 148 yards and three TDs, the last one a 10-yarder with less than three minutes to play. Snead, who hit on 15 of 31 for 248 yards, marched the Eagles from their own 27 for the winning score, hitting Retzlaff three times before the TD pitch.

Bruce Gossett kicked four field goals, three of them from better than 40 yards, as the Rams dropped Green Bay 1½ games back of the Colts in the West with just three games to play.

The victory snapped an eight-game Los Angeles losing string that had covered two months.

Sonny Jurgensen pitched Washington to a pair of touchdowns in the final four minutes as the Redskins overtook Dallas. Jurgensen, who completed 26 of 42 passes for 411 yards, used just eight plays for the two marches downfield, covering 64 yards in the first series and 80 in the second.

John Brodie completed 10 of 19 passes against Minnesota, half of them for touchdowns. The five scoring pitches made it easy for San Francisco as the Vikings suffered their third straight one-sided loss.

CLEVELAND BROWNS' Leroy Kelly is off and running for a touchdown as he struggles loose from a low tackle by Steelers' Frank Lambert. Kelly went 56 yards with the punt return in the second quarter. (UPI Telephoto)

Bryant Proud Of Team

Alabama Came Long Way, Nebraska Is Next Challenge

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's Crimson Tide, counted out of everything two months ago but named to a bowl a week ago, has completed one of the biggest comebacks of the 1965 college football season and now turns its attention to Nebraska.

"We haven't turned a wheel on Nebraska," Alabama Coach Bear Bryant said. "We haven't looked at them, haven't scouted them, haven't thought about them."

But the Tide, ranked fifth in the country and headed for a Jan. 1 Orange Bowl date with Nebraska, 10-0 and No. 3 nationally, undoubtedly will be thinking about the Cornhuskers a lot this week.

They have nothing else to do.

Bryant, one of the toughest task masters in the business, gave the team the week off after Alabama closed its regular season with a 30-3 triumph over Auburn Saturday.

"I'm proud of them," Bryant said, "more so than any team I've ever been associated with. They had to come from so far back."

'Bama was counted out of everything, and knocked out of the nation's No. 1 spot when they lost to Georgia in their opener. Only a tie with Tennessee mars their record since then.

They finished at 8-1-1 and, by beating Auburn, took the Southeastern Conference title. Steve Sloan threw three touchdown passes.

Georgia Tech, headed for the Gator Bowl, was upset by Georgia 17-7, while the two big ones — Army vs. Navy and Notre Dame vs. Miami, Fla. — ended in ties.

Army and Navy struggled to a lack-lustre 7-7 tie before 102,000 in Philadelphia, finishing off a mediocre season for each team. Mighty Notre Dame, No. 6 in the country, apparently suffered a let-down after the previous week's loss to Michigan State and was held to a scoreless tie by Miami.

The other ranked teams in action won handily, No. 9 Tennessee taking Vanderbilt 21-3 and No. 8 Southern California routed Wyoming 56-6.

Brigham Young wrapped up the Western Athletic Conference title with a 42-8 romp over New Mexico while Texas Christian filled out the major bowl lineup, accepting a spot in the Sun Bowl after beating Southern Methodist 10-7.

Sugar Bowl — Missouri, 7-2-1, vs. Florida, 7-3.

Bluebonnet Bowl — Tennessee, 6-1-2, vs. Tulsa, 8-2.

Liberty Bowl — Auburn, 5-4-1, vs. Mississippi, 6-4.

Reds Replace Seats

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds said today they are replacing 3,585 seats at Crosley Field at a cost of $62,500. New contour riser - type seats are being installed.

Pro Drafts

None was picked in the NFL draft.

Besides Nobis and Grabowski, four other AFL first-round choices are unsigned, Purdue tackle Karl Singer, picked by Boston; Kentucky quarterback Rick Norton, selected by Miami; Mississippi halfback Mike Dennis, tapped by Buffalo, and Los Angeles State tackle Don Davis, taken by San Diego.

Three teams had considerable difficulties making up their minds about their first-round picks, New York and Oakland in the AFL and Pittsburgh in the NFL. The Jets and Steelers each waited until six hours had passed in their respective drafts before making selections.

The Raiders, however, took 12 hours and 56 minutes from the time the AFL draft started before naming any of their choices — and then took a strange route by announcing their third, fifth and seventh selections before revealing Bird as their No. 1 pick.

Oakland officials still have not given any substantial reason for their unusual tactics.

Charleston Is Crowned CFL King

CHARLESTON (AP) — Charleston's punting was the difference. It kept our backs to the wall."

That's the way Toronto Coach Leo Cahill explained his team's 24-7 loss to the Charleston Rockets here Sunday in the Continental Football League's first championship playoff.

Jim Hollingsworth's long distance punting and a strong defense gave the Rockets their 15th victory for an undefeated season in the league's first year.

"Kicking and defense were the major factors," Rockets Coach Perry Moss declared. "It was our best over-all defensive effort of the year. And the offense did as good a job as was possible against that team."

The Rockets ran up a 14-0 halftime lead and kept the Rifles scoreless until the fourth period.

Charleston scored its first touchdown on a 29-yard pass from quarterback Ron Miller to end Jim Moss in the second period. Then a fake field goal try set up Miller's 8-yard scoring run with just 13 seconds left in the half.

A field goal by Ed Mitchamore gave the rockets a 17-0 lead midway in the third period.

Toronto's sole touchdown came with less than six minutes left in the game, after Bob Morgan intercepted a Miller pass at the Toronto 47 and ran it back to the Charleston 43. Joe Williams turned in the 43-yard scoring run on the next play.

Hollingsworth punted nine times, averaging 56.9 yards. Among the punts was an 89-yarder which tied his league record.

Moss called his championship squad the best balanced in pro football. "We're not outstanding individually, but we have no real weaknesses," he said.

"It was a good ball game," Moss said. "And we have a perfect record . . . something none of us even thought of earlier in the season."

Local Relatives See Army Star Score TD

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McFadden of McDonald St., Glenmoor watched their nephew Charley (Sonny) Stowers of Chesapeake, Ohio, score Army's only touchdown in the 7-7 tie with Navy Saturday at Philadelphia.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stowers of Chesapeake, his father once worked in the East Liverpool area before moving to Chesapeake. Young Stowers, who is in his final year at West Point is also the nephew of Mrs. Thelma Hill of Midland.

Stowers, a converted guard, ran 25 yards to a touchdown, in the first quarter for the Cadets lone touchdown as the service teams battled to the sixth deadlock of the 75-year-old series.

Stowers also was named captain of the Army team for the game Saturday at Philadelphia.

Stowers was Army's leading rusher this season with 730 yards in 177 carries up to the Army game. Traditionally the Army squad selects the captain for each game but the player picked by the team for the Army - Navy game is considered the captain for the season.

Kathy Whitworth Wins Titleholders

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Kathy Whitworth of San Antonio, Tex., won the Women's Titleholders Golf Tournament Sunday with a 71 for 287 and a tournament record.

Finishing 10 strokes behind in second place was Peggy Wilson of Mereidian, Miss., ner highest finish on the professional tour.

Mishap Hurts 2 In Hancock

Two Beaver County youths were admitted to City Hospital following an auto accident early Sunday morning on the Little Run Rd. near Lawrenceville, the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

The accident occurred about 4:30 near the Conkle Farms, about four miles east of Chester, the report said. Investigating deputies charged Wright with failure to have his vehicle under control.

Damage of $700 was estimated to Wright's 1960 auto.

5,000 At Lisbon See Yule Parade

LISBON — An estimated 5,000 to 6,000 persons viewed the Christmas parade in the Village Square Saturday and saw Santa Claus arrive in a traditional manner—on a float instead of sky-diving, as originally planned.

Heavy winds reportedly forced St. Nick to alter his arrival plans with parade officials saying that the parachute drop would have been impossible with 60-mile-per-hour winds at 3,000 feet.

Participating were high school bands from Crestview, Beaver Local, Southern Local, Lisbon and Greenford.

Lining E. and W. Lincoln Ways and the Square, the crowd got a glimpse of Santa at his busiest — handing out treats to nearly 2,000 youngsters.

Boy's Shotgun Death Ruled As 'Accidental'

Accidental death was ruled by John D. Herron, Hancock County coroner, in an inquiry conducted Saturday into the fatal shotgun wounding Friday of Robert Allen Byard, 16, son of George Byard and Sarah Neff Byard of the Washington School Rd., New Cumberland R.D. 2.

The youth died of the wound in City Hospital following a hunting accident on White Oak Ridge Rd., between Tomlinson Run State Park and West Virginia Route 66.

Authorities said the shooting occurred when a companion slipped on muddy ground, causing the weapon to discharge.

Called 'Little Mother'

Mrs. Kidder To Retire From Welfare Position

LISBON — The "Little Mother" of the County Welfare Department will retire Tuesday after 13 years of working in the field of child welfare.

Mrs. Goldie Kidder of LaCroft, East Liverpool, a widow, is a case work supervisor with the Welfare Department. Through the years, the title of "Little Mother" was bestowed upon the diminutive woman by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

Mrs. Kidder works closely with Juvenile Court.

"The work is gratifying and enjoyable," she said. She cited one of its gratifying elements when she recently received a letter from a young man serving in the Army.

The youth is doing a good job in the Army, she said, and is disproving every bad omen she thought appeared certain for him.

A highlight of Mrs. Kidder's work is preparing for Christmas.

"This is a project that is close to my heart," she said. "It is the only time when children under the welfare department can write out their Christmas wishes, within reason, and usually get what they want."

Mrs. Kidder has begun preparations for this year's Christmas, even though she is retiring and will not see it through.

"However, I will be coming in from time to time to check on how things are going," she said.

One lad has asked for a sled and a little girl has requested a doll and Mrs. Kidder is trying to see that they'll get their wishes.

She began her work Dec. 5, 1934, when she was employed in the Aid for the Aged Department. In 1952 she was transferred to Child Welfare. Although she had no children of her own, the wall near her desk in the Welfare Department building has many pictures of young people she has known in her work.

No replacement has been announced.

Charge Filed After Youth's Attack On Girl

A Wellsville youth is due to be arraigned Tuesday in Lisbon on charges of assault with intent to kill as the result of an alleged attack Friday night on a Wellsville girl.

The charges against Leslie Hobert Briggs, 18, of the Inn City Motel were filed after he was questioned by Atty. James Primm, assistant Columbiana County prosecutor, and State Highway Patrolman Daniel Sumrok.

Briggs allegedly attacked Miss Donna Sue Cross, 19, of 1359 Hillcrest Rd., Wellsville, while parked in her car along Route 39 outside Wellsville.

The patrol said the two were injured in an accident that followed the incident. Miss Cross lost control of the car on a curve and it went into a deep ditch and struck a large rock.

They were taken to Osteopathic Hospital, where the girl was admitted. Briggs telephoned East Liverpool police from the hospital and told the desk officer he had attempted to kill a girl, the patrol said. East Liverpool Patrloman L. E. Richards was sent to the hospital to investigate. He then notified the patrol when it was determined the incident occurred in the county.

Briggs was taken to Lisbon where he was interviewed by Primm and Sumrok. He said that he and Miss Cross had been engaged to be married but had broken the engagement about a month ago. The patrol gave this account:

Briggs said he met her in Wellsville Friday night and they went shopping together in East Liverpool. When they returned to Wellsville, he asked that she drive outside the city to talk.

Briggs said he then began to choke the girl, who lost conciousness. He became frightened and halted the attack. The girl started to drive back into Wellsville after she regained consciousness, but wrecked the car on the way. Briggs is being held in the County Jail at Lisbon.

2 Escape Unhurt In Auto Collision

BEAVER — A Smiths Ferry man and a Darlington youth escaped injury this morning at 8:05 in a collision on Tuscarawas Rd. in Brighton Township.

As Tindall passed one of the buses, Dalton Stone of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, pulled into his path while attempting to pass another bus and Tindall's car struck the rear of Dalton's auto.

Tindall's car then left the road and overturned in a yard.

Reunion Held At Salineville

Getting together for the first time in 10 years were the host, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Morrow of McKeesport, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morrow of Salineville and Keith Morrow and his daughters Susan, Nancy and Jane of Bellefontaine.

The dinner was also a farewell party for Miss Susan Morrow, who will be leaving for Africa Wednesday for a two - year tour of duty with the Peace Corps.

Another brother, Allen Morrow, was unable to attend because of work.

E. D. Holmes of W. Main St. has left to spend the winter with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Whilan of Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Carter and family celebrated Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Blackburn of Toronto.

$18,000 In Tax Liens Name Lisbon Attorney

LISBON — Liens seeking to collect $18,511 allegedly due for federal income tax have been filed at the Courthouse against the property of Atty. Howard Cole, former assistant county prosecuting attorney.

Records at the Courthouse show that the Internal Revenue Service last March filed a $16,553 lien against Cole and on Sept. 29 filed another lien of $1,958.

The liens were filed against Cole's property at 309 E. Chestnut St., claiming that amount due in income taxes from 1955 through 1964.

The liens were applied after the demand for payment of taxes went unpaid for a period of time, the IRS said. Cole resigned May 1 as assistant prosecuting attorney.

Jaycee Committees Will Discuss Airport

The combined air park and civic responsibility committees of the East Liverpool Jaycees will meet tonight at 8 at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. building in Glenmoor to discuss the Columbiana County airport project.

The Jaycees are attempting to have the airport located near East Liverpool.

The meeting will be opened to the general public at 8:30.

(SOUNDS LIKE MG WEATHER)

Consider: front-wheel drive.
This puts power into the steering wheels (where it belongs), sends the car arrow-straight to where you aim it. It puts weight over the driving wheels (where it works for you), delivers remarkable traction, even on super-slick surfaces.
Consider: fluid suspension.
Result: your MG Sports Sedan holds steady in crosswinds...steps sure over snow and ice. There is no safer winter car. You say you don't want one? Then don't take a chance—stay home.

Bryant Proud Of Team

Alabama Came Long Way, Nebraska Is Next Challenge

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's Crimson Tide, counted out of everything two months ago but named to a bowl a week ago, has completed one of the biggest comebacks of the 1965 college football season and now turns its attention to Nebraska.

"We haven't turned a wheel on Nebraska," Alabama Coach Bear Bryant said. "We haven't looked at them, haven't scouted them, haven't thought about them."

But the Tide, ranked fifth in the country and headed for a Jan. 1 Orange Bowl date with Nebraska, 10-0 and No. 3 nationally, undoubtedly will be thinking about the Cornhuskers a lot this week.

They have nothing else to do.

Bryant, one of the toughest task masters in the business, gave the team the week off after Alabama closed its regular season with a 30-3 triumph over Auburn Saturday.

"I'm proud of them," Bryant said, "more so than any team I've ever been associated with. They had to come from so far back."

'Bama was counted out of everything, and knocked out of the nation's No. 1 spot when they lost to Georgia in their opener. Only a tie with Tennessee mars their record since then.

They finished at 8-1-1 and, by beating Auburn, took the Southeastern Conference title. Steve Sloan threw three touchdown passes.

Georgia Tech, headed for the Gator Bowl, was upset by Georgia 17-7, while the two big ones — Army vs. Navy and Notre Dame vs. Miami, Fla. — ended in ties.

Army and Navy struggled to a lack-lustre 7-7 tie before 102,000 in Philadelphia, finishing off a mediocre season for each team. Mighty Notre Dame, No. 6 in the country, apparently suffered a let-down after the previous week's loss to Michigan State and was held to a scoreless tie by Miami.

The other ranked teams in action won handily, No. 9 Tennessee taking Vanderbilt 21-3 and No. 8 Southern California routed Wyoming 56-6.

Brigham Young wrapped up the Western Athletic Conference title with a 42-8 romp over New Mexico while Texas Christian filled out the major bowl lineup, accepting a spot in the Sun Bowl after beating Southern Methodist 10-7.

Sugar Bowl — Missouri, 7-2-1, vs. Florida, 7-3.

Bluebonnet Bowl — Tennessee, 6-1-2, vs. Tulsa, 8-2.

None was picked in the NFL draft.

Besides Nobis and Grabowski, four other AFL first-round choices are unsigned, Purdue tackle Karl Singer, picked by Boston; Kentucky quarterback Rick Norton, selected by Miami; Mississippi halfback Mike Dennis, tapped by Buffalo, and Los Angeles State tackle Don Davis, taken by San Diego.

Three teams had considerable difficulties making up their minds about their first-round picks, New York and Oakland in the AFL and Pittsburgh in the NFL. The Jets and Steelers each waited until six hours had passed in their respective drafts before making selections.

The Raiders, however, took 12 hours and 56 minutes from the time the AFL draft started before naming any of their choices — and then took a strange route by announcing their third, fifth and seventh selections before revealing Bird as their No. 1 pick.

Oakland officials still have not given any substantial reason for their unusual tactics.

Here Is List Of Ohio College Stars Drafted

NFL

Philadelphia—Dwight Kelley, Ohio State linebacker.

Charleston Is Crowned CFL King

That's the way Toronto Coach Leo Cahill explained his team's 24-7 loss to the Charleston Rockets here Sunday in the Continental Football League's first championship playoff.

Jim Hollingsworth's long distance punting and a strong defense gave the Rockets their 15th victory for an undefeated season in the league's first year.

"Kicking and defense were the major factors," Rockets Coach Perry Moss declared. "It was our best over-all defensive effort of the year. And the offense did as good a job as was possible against that team."

The Rockets ran up a 14-0 halftime lead and kept the Rifles scoreless until the fourth period.

Charleston scored its first touchdown on a 29-yard pass from quarterback Ron Miller to end Jim Moss in the second period. Then a fake field goal try set up Miller's 8-yard scoring run with just 13 seconds left in the half.

A field goal by Ed Mitchamore gave the rockets a 17-0 lead midway in the third period.

Toronto's sole touchdown came with less than six minutes left in the game, after Bob Morgan intercepted a Miller pass at the Toronto 47 and ran it back to the Charleston 43. Joe Williams turned in the 43-yard scoring run on the next play.

Hollingsworth punted nine times, averaging 56.9 yards. Among the punts was an 89-yarder which tied his league record.

Moss called his championship squad the best balanced in pro football. "We're not outstanding individually, but we have no real weaknesses," he said.

"It was a good ball game," Moss said. "And we have a perfect record . . . something none of us even thought of earlier in the season."

Local Relatives See Army Star Score TD

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McFadden of McDonald St., Glenmoor watched their nephew Charley (Sonny) Stowers of Chesapeake, Ohio, score Army's only touchdown in the 7-7 tie with Navy Saturday at Philadelphia.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stowers of Chesapeake, his father once worked in the East Liverpool area before moving to Chesapeake. Young Stowers, who is in his final year at West Point is also the nephew of Mrs. Thelma Hill of Midland.

Stowers, a converted guard, ran 25 yards to a touchdown, in the first quarter for the Cadets lone touchdown as the service teams battled to the sixth deadlock of the 75-year-old series.

Stowers also was named captain of the Army team for the game Saturday at Philadelphia.

Stowers was Army's leading rusher this season with 730 yards in 177 carries up to the Army game. Traditionally the Army squad selects the captain for each game but the player picked by the team for the Army - Navy game is considered the captain for the season.

Kathy Whitworth Wins Titleholders

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Kathy Whitworth of San Antonio, Tex., won the Women's Titleholders Golf Tournament Sunday with a 71 for 287 and a tournament record.

Finishing 10 strokes behind in second place was Peggy Wilson of Mereidian, Miss., her highest finish on the professional tour.

Mishap Hurts 2 In Hancock

Two Beaver County youths were admitted to City Hospital following an auto accident early Sunday morning on the Little Run Rd. near Lawrenceville, the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

The accident occurred about 4:30 near the Conkle Farms, about four miles east of Chester, the report said. Investigating deputies charged Wright with failure to have his vehicle under control.

Damage of $700 was estimated to Wright's 1960 auto.

5,000 At Lisbon See Yule Parade

LISBON — An estimated 5,000 to 6,000 persons viewed the Christmas parade in the Village Square Saturday and saw Santa Claus arrive in a traditional manner—on a float instead of sky-diving, as originally planned.

Heavy winds reportedly forced St. Nick to alter his arrival plans with parade officials saying that the parachute drop would have been impossible with 60-mile-per-hour winds at 3,000 feet.

Participating were high school bands from Crestview, Beaver Local, Southern Local, Lisbon and Greenford.

Lining E. and W. Lincoln Ways and the Square, the crowd got a glimpse of Santa at his busiest — handing out treats to nearly 2,000 youngsters.

Boy's Shotgun Death Ruled As 'Accidental'

Accidental death was ruled by John D. Herron, Hancock County coroner, in an inquiry conducted Saturday into the fatal shotgun wounding Friday of Robert Allen Byard, 16, son of George Byard and Sarah Neff Byard of the Washington School Rd., New Cumberland R.D. 2.

The youth died of the wound in City Hospital following a hunting accident on White Oak Ridge Rd., between Tomlinson Run State Park and West Virginia Route 66.

Authorities said the shooting occurred when a companion slipped on muddy ground, causing the weapon to discharge.

Called 'Little Mother'

Mrs. Kidder To Retire From Welfare Position

LISBON — The "Little Mother" of the County Welfare Department will retire Tuesday after 13 years of working in the field of child welfare.

Mrs. Goldie Kidder of LaCroft, East Liverpool, a widow, is a case work supervisor with the Welfare Department. Through the years, the title of "Little Mother" was bestowed upon the diminutive woman by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

Mrs. Kidder works closely with Juvenile Court.

"The work is gratifying and enjoyable," she said. She cited one of its gratifying elements when she recently received a letter from a young man serving in the Army.

The youth is doing a good job in the Army, she said, and is disproving every bad omen she thought appeared certain for him.

A highlight of Mrs. Kidder's work is preparing for Christmas.

"This is a project that is close to my heart," she said. "It is the only time when children under the welfare department can write out their Christmas wishes, within reason, and usually get what they want."

Mrs. Kidder has begun preparations for this year's Christmas, even though she is retiring and will not see it through.

"However, I will be coming in from time to time to check on how things are going," she said.

One lad has asked for a sled and a little girl has requested a doll and Mrs. Kidder is trying to see that they'll get their wishes.

She began her work Dec. 5, 1934, when she was employed in the Aid for the Aged Department. In 1952 she was transferred to Child Welfare. Although she had no children of her own, the wall near her desk in the Welfare Department building has many pictures of young people she has known in her work.

No replacement has been announced.

Charge Filed After Youth's Attack On Girl

A Wellsville youth is due to be arraigned Tuesday in Lisbon on charges of assault with intent to kill as the result of an alleged attack Friday night on a Wellsville girl.

The charges against Leslie Hobert Briggs, 18, of the Inn City Motel were filed after he was questioned by Atty. James Primm, assistant Columbiana County prosecutor, and State Highway Patrolman Daniel Sumrok.

The patrol said the two were injured in an accident that followed the incident. Miss Cross lost control of the car on a curve and it went into a deep ditch and struck a large rock.

They were taken to Osteopathic Hospital, where the girl was admitted. Briggs telephoned East Liverpool police from the hospital and told the desk officer he had attempted to kill a girl, the patrol said. East Liverpool Patrloman L. E. Richards was sent to the hospital to investigate. He then notified the patrol when it was determined the incident occurred in the county.

Briggs was taken to Lisbon where he was interviewed by Primm and Sumrok. He said that he and Miss Cross had been engaged to be married but had broken the engagement about a month ago. The patrol gave this account:

Briggs said he met her in Wellsville Friday night and they went shopping together in East Liverpool. When they returned to Wellsville, he asked that she drive outside the city to talk.

Briggs said he then began to choke the girl, who lost consciousness. He became frightened and halted the attack. The girl started to drive back into Wellsville after she regained consciousness, but wrecked the car on the way. Briggs is being held in the County Jail at Lisbon.

2 Escape Unhurt In Auto Collision

BEAVER — A Smiths Ferry man and a Darlington youth escaped injury this morning at 8:05 in a collision on Tuscarawas Rd. in Brighton Township.

As Tindall passed one of the buses, Dalton Stone of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, pulled into his path while attempting to pass another bus and Tindall's car struck the rear of Dalton's auto.

Reunion Held At Salineville

Getting together for the first time in 10 years were the host, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Morrow of McKeesport, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morrow of Salineville and Keith Morrow and his daughters Susan, Nancy and Jane of Bellefontaine.

The dinner was also a farewell party for Miss Susan Morrow, who will be leaving for Africa Wednesday for a two - year tour of duty with the Peace Corps.

Another brother, Allen Morrow, was unable to attend because of work.

$18,000 In Tax Liens Name Lisbon Attorney

LISBON — Liens seeking to collect $18,511 allegedly due for federal income tax have been filed at the Courthouse against the property of Atty. Howard Cole, former assistant county prosecuting attorney.

Records at the Courthouse show that the Internal Revenue Service last March filed a $16,553 lien against Cole and on Sept. 29 filed another lien of $1,958.

The liens were filed against Cole's property at 309 E. Chestnut St., claiming that amount due in income taxes from 1955 through 1964.

The liens were applied after the demand for payment of taxes went unpaid for a period of time, the IRS said. Cole resigned May 1 as assistant prosecuting attorney.

Jaycee Committees Will Discuss Airport

The combined air park and civic responsibility committees of the East Liverpool Jaycees will meet tonight at 8 at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. building in Glenmoor to discuss the Columbiana County airport project.

The Jaycees are attempting to have the airport located near East Liverpool.

The meeting will be opened to the general public at 8:30.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST:
HEAVY SNOW, GUSTY WINDS, FREEZING RAIN, ICY ROADS

(SOUNDS LIKE MG WEATHER)
Consider: front-wheel drive.
This puts power into the steering wheels (where it belongs), sends the car arrow-straight to where you aim it. It puts weight over the driving wheels (where it works for you), delivers remarkable traction, even on super-slick surfaces.
Consider: fluid suspension.
Result: your MG Sports Sedan holds steady in crosswinds...steps sure over snow and ice. There is no safer winter car. You say you don't want one? Then don't take a chance—stay home.

The Fault With Faddy Diets

Why are fad diets ineffective? To begin with, most faddy fare is restricted to a new foods with the meals monotonusly the same for the entire period.

Ida Jean Kain

You can lose weight, of course, since any diet restricted in calories will enable you to reduce. But at the end of the diet period, you invariably turn right around and regain the lost poundage — generally with a few extra pounds.

Any diet restricted to a few foods is so different from your regular ways of eating that it does nothing to change your eating habits, nor does it change the way you think about food. In most cases, overweights can hardly wait to finish the diet so they can go back to eating as usual.

IF YOU could look over my shoulder at the letters which come in to this dietitian, it would be a startling eye - opener. If the letter starts out: "I have tried every faddy diet that has come along. . . .", I know the rest of the story. The writer of that letter is still burdened with excess weight and feels discouraged about ever being able to reduce.

Here is a typical example: "Do you have a protective diet of less than 1000 calories a day and one that contains no cottage cheese. No more cottage cheese, ever! I have to lose 50 pounds. I have dieted, gained it back and gotten nowhere. Now, for health reasons, it is imperative that I reduce and keep the weight off."

I've come to the conclusion that faddy diets are actually to blame for much of the overweight in our land of good living. Of course, lack of exercise figures in too. We have cut down on food, but since we have cut down on exercise even more, it is easy to get too many calories.

THE BEST reducing diet is still the time - honored, varied low calorie diet. It should be planned so as to keep the pattern of eating in line with your usual ways of eating, but with fewer calories.

This note from a successful reducer points the way:

"After dallying with faddy diets and getting nowhere, I decided to eat to build leanness and re-educate my appetite. Also, I exercise regularly, following a TV program. Now 25 of the 40 excess pounds are gone. I could write pages, but will finish with this — don't be discouraged, overweights. On a protective plan of eating you can reduce and look and feel wonderful."

Splendid. Give credit to your exercise program for a good share of that wonderful feeling. Nature never meant for us to just sit.

Ohio Pilot Uninjured In Jet Bomber Crash

PLEIKU, Viet Nam (AP)—An Ohioan co-piloting a U. S. Air Force F4C twin - jet phantom bomber when it crashed Sunday escaped injury as did the pilot when they bailed out.

1st Lt. J. James Knoch of Akron, Ohio, and Capt. Robert C. Street, Delmar, N.Y., were picked up by friendly forces shortly after ejecting. They had been on a rocket strike against Viet Cong positions on the outskirts of Pleiku, and it was believed ground fire disabled their plane.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

The Fault With Faddy Diets

Why are fad diets ineffective? To begin with, most faddy fare is restricted to a new foods with the meals monotonusly the same for the entire period.

Ida Jean Kain

You can lose weight, of course, since any diet restricted in calories will enable you to reduce. But at the end of the diet period, you invariably turn right around and regain the lost poundage — generally with a few extra pounds.

Any diet restricted to a few foods is so different from your regular ways of eating that it does nothing to change your eating habits, nor does it change the way you think about food. In most cases, overweights can hardly wait to finish the diet so they can go back to eating as usual.

IF YOU could look over my shoulder at the letters which come in to this dietitian, it would be a startling eye - opener. If the letter starts out: "I have tried every faddy diet that has come along. . . .", I know the rest of the story. The writer of that letter is still burdened with excess weight and feels discouraged about ever being able to reduce.

Here is a typical example: "Do you have a protective diet of less than 1000 calories a day and one that contains no cottage cheese. No more cottage cheese, ever! I have to lose 50 pounds. I have dieted, gained it back and gotten nowhere. Now, for health reasons, it is imperative that I reduce and keep the weight off."

I've come to the conclusion that faddy diets are actually to blame for much of the overweight in our land of good living. Of course, lack of exercise figures in too. We have cut down on food, but since we have cut down on exercise even more, it is easy to get too many calories.

THE BEST reducing diet is still the time - honored, varied low calorie diet. It should be planned so as to keep the pattern of eating in line with your usual ways of eating, but with fewer calories.

This note from a successful reducer points the way:

"After dallying with faddy diets and getting nowhere, I decided to eat to build leanness and re-educate my appetite. Also, I exercise regularly, following a TV program. Now 25 of the 40 excess pounds are gone. I could write pages, but will finish with this — don't be discouraged, overweights. On a protective plan of eating you can reduce and look and feel wonderful."

Splendid. Give credit to your exercise program for a good share of that wonderful feeling. Nature never meant for us to just sit.

Ohio Pilot Uninjured In Jet Bomber Crash

PLEIKU, Viet Nam (AP)—An Ohioan co-piloting a U. S. Air Force F4C twin - jet phantom bomber when it crashed Sunday escaped injury as did the pilot when they bailed out.

1st Lt. J. James Knoch of Akron, Ohio, and Capt. Robert C. Street, Delmar, N.Y., were picked up by friendly forces shortly after ejecting. They had been on a rocket strike against Viet Cong positions on the outskirts of Pleiku, and it was believed ground fire disabled their plane.

Out Of The Air

TV's Serialization Fever Goes Down

Hollywood and New York network TV trendmakers are shaking off the serialization fever. Whereas a few months ago, in the wake of soaring ratings for "Peyton Place," virtually every new dramatic program idea was being weighed with a view to its possibilities as a multiweekly cliff hanger, there is now what one trade paper describes as a "perceptible chill" toward TV serials in network circles.

Richard Doan

THE MAJOR REASON: the slump this fall in "Peyton Place" ratings together with failure by some other series, such as "Dr. Kildare" and "Ben Casey," to capitalize successfully on the continuing plot device.

While it is too soon to know whether next fall will see the introduction of new attempts at serialization or a further cutback in this form, at least one network has apparently pigeonholed all program proposals involving the cliff hanger technique.

CBS a short while ago was considering TV serial editions of two movies, "East of Eden" and "Sunset Boulevard." They were envisioned as two half hours each per week. Both projects have been tabled.

MEANWHILE, however, ABC and NBC still are toying with possible new entries in evening soap opera.

One in preparation for NBC is a spinoff from "Dr. Kildare" entitled "The Best Years." A two-part episode to be filmed for "Kildare" will serve as a pilot for this series idea.

Like "Peyton Place," "The Best Years" would have an outsize cast, including 16 continuing characters. Producer Norman Felton already has picked Audrey Totter and Sidney Blackmer for two of these roles. Miss Totter was seen with Stanley Holloway in the "Our Man Higgins" series on ABC in 1962-63.

The role of the young doctor has not yet been cast and no air date set for the two-parter.

ANOTHER NBC project, being developed by Universal TV, is a weekly hour drama called "The Road West," a costumed period piece which network program chief Mort Werner is reluctant to talk about yet except to concede it has "subplots which are not resolved" in each episode.

The other two are "Men Against Evil," a police action drama with Howard Duff, Jeanne Crain and Ben Alexander, and "Them Monroes," a Western about a family of parentless children, starring Michael Anderson Jr.

National Educational Television (NET) announced that its "At Issue" series is readying as assessment of this season's network entertainments to be shown on the nation's 102 NET stations next February.

The hour-long program will include criticism of documentary and public affairs programming on educational TV as well as on the commercial chains, NET reported.

Among participants in the program will be Rod Serling, creator of "Twilight Zone" and "The Loner" and president of the TV academy; Terence O'Flaherty, San Francisco TV columnist, and Harry Skornia, University of Illinois professor and author of the book, "Television and Society."

HARRY MORGAN, former co-star of "Pete and Gladys," a CBS comedy series, and night club comedian Shecky Greene have been signed to play the leads in a Universal TV comedy plot, "Kelly's Kingdom," to be filmed for CBS.

Sheriff Says Raid Ordered Despite Aide

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sheriff James J. McGettrick said he had to second guess his former executive officer John Kocevar to shut down an alleged house of prostitution in suburban Oakwood last April, the Plain Dealer reported today in a copyrighted story.

The newspaper said the sheriff gave an official accounting of the closing Sunday in response to a story the paper carried in its Sunday editions.

That story said two sheriff's deputies closed down the house after another team of sheriff's investigators reported after six days of surveillance that the house was not being used as a prostitution center. No arrests were made, the Plain Dealer said.

The Plain Dealer said the sheriff explained that at the time the original complaint about the house came in he had just got his wife out of the hospital and he took her to Florida on the suggestion of her doctor. McGettrick said he turned the complaint over to Kocevar and told him to assign deputies to take care of it, the Plain Dealer reported.

When he returned from Florida he read the report of the investigating team, but was not satisfied with it and sent two other deputies to the house with orders to close it, the sheriff said.

Kocevar, who resigned last Friday as executive officer in the sheriff's department, could not be reached for comment.

Cuban Resettlement Due To Hit 800 A Week Pace

MIAMI (AP) — About 800 Cuban refugees will be added to the U.S. population every week starting Wednesday and possibly continuing for years. From Miami, they will scatter throughout the nation.

The Cuban Refugee Center, which will coordinate the vast distribution program, will steer refugees to relatives who preceded them.

Otherwise, the program shapes up largely as a speedup of resettlement that since 1961 has sent nearly 100,000 exiles to more than 2,000 cities in the 50 states, a center spokesman said.

"Under a change of procedure, resettlement now will be largely on a relative-to-relative basis," said Marshal Wise, director of the government-operated center. "Cubans will look for jobs in areas where they have relatives."

That means populous areas such as New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, where refugees already are concentrated, will receive more, a center spokesman said. It does not mean, however, that points now without a Cuban population will be left out.

A community wishing to attract refugees, or employers with job openings for some, should contact a church in their hometown or the refugee center in Miami, or both, the spokesman said. Most churches are prepared to relay the requests to settlement agencies, he said.

Under the new phase of the migration movement, relatives of Cubans already in the United States will be flown from Varadero, Cuba, to Miami. There will be nine flights weekly, with Uncle Sam paying the fares.

Applications for evacuation of 174,000 persons from Cuba have been received by the refugee center from 85,190 relatives in this country. It would take more than four years to bring that number here at the rate of 800 weekly. The U.S. and Cuban governments must pass on the applications.

10,000 Delegates Due At Farmer Convention

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The first of about 10,000 delegates from 25 states began arriving in St. Louis Sunday for the National Farmers Organization convention Wednesday and Thursday.

Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., NFO president, said the delegates will hear a report on the organization's progress in collective bargaining for dairy, grain and meat products in the last year, and plans for a nationwide marketing bargaining structure for members.

3 Students Help Officer Attacked By Irate Driver

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three University of Cincinnati freshmen who went to the aid of a seriously injured policeman and then captured his attacker are to be honored by the Police Department.

Chief Stanley R. Schrotel said the students, Robert Wilson and Ed Panasewicz, both of Newcastle, Pa., and Thomas DiVecchia, Scranton, Pa., all 18, will receive written commendations.

Schrotel, noting that many persons refuse to offer aid because they don't want to get involved, said "the spontaneous response of these three fine students in a vigorous demonstration of their support of law and order."

The students went to the aid of Patrolman William Beahr, 36, who had stopped a motorist Saturday night for going 40 miles per hour in a 30 mph zone, the chief said. The motorist was identified as Earl Curry, 26, Cincinnati.

Police said Curry became aggressive when Beahr attempted to give him a ticket. Officers said the patrolman was knocked to the ground and hit his head on the pavement.

The students were walking nearby and saw what was happening, Schrotel said. They grabbed Curry and held him until additional police arrived, he added.

Beahr suffered a concussion and amnesia and remained in serious condition in General Hospital. Curry was charged with speeding, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

Practice Run Staged By Fire Department

Firemen from the five volunteer fire companies in northern Hancock County participated in a practice run to Oak Glen High School about 3 p. m. Sunday.

The drill, sponsored by the United Hancock County Firefighters Association, was directed by John Pittenger, chief of the Pughtown department. The special runs were conducted to determine how quickly fire companies could arrive at the school in case of an emergency.

The Pughtown company, located closest to the school, arrived in 4½ minutes; the Chester department, 14 minutes; Newell, the furthest distance away, 18 minutes; Lawrenceville, 15 minutes, and New Cumberland 14 minutes.

Salineville Area Man Hurt On Power Saw

Two children also were treated at the hospital Sunday. Bruce Edgell, 12, son of William Edgell of Calcutta, suffered a puncture wound of the right foot when he stepped on a nail.

Randy Darnell, 4, son of Don Curran of the Y. & O. Rd., suffered a laceration in the middle of his forehead when he fell from a bicycle.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

TV's Serialization Fever Goes Down

Hollywood and New York network TV trendmakers are shaking off the serialization fever. Whereas a few months ago, in the wake of soaring ratings for "Peyton Place," virtually every new dramatic program idea was being weighed with a view to its possibilities as a multiweekly cliff hanger, there is now what one trade paper describes as a "perceptible chill" toward TV serials in network circles.

THE MAJOR REASON: the slump this fall in "Peyton Place" ratings together with failure by some other series, such as "Dr. Kildare" and "Ben Casey," to capitalize successfully on the continuing plot device.

While it is too soon to know whether next fall will see the introduction of new attempts at serialization or a further cutback in this form, at least one network has apparently pigeonholed all program proposals involving the cliff hanger technique.

CBS a short while ago was considering TV serial editions of two movies, "East of Eden" and "Sunset Boulevard." They were envisioned as two half hours each per week. Both projects have been tabled.

One in preparation for NBC is a spinoff from "Dr. Kildare" entitled "The Best Years." A two-part episode to be filmed for "Kildare" will serve as a pilot for this series idea.

Like "Peyton Place," "The Best Years" would have an outsize cast, including 16 continuing characters. Producer Norman Felton already has picked Audrey Totter and Sidney Blackmer for two of these roles. Miss Totter was seen with Stanley Holloway in the "Our Man Higgins" series on ABC in 1962-63.

The role of the young doctor has not yet been cast and no air date set for the two-parter.

ANOTHER NBC project, being developed by Universal TV, is a weekly hour drama called "The Road West," a costumed period piece which network program chief Mort Werner is reluctant to talk about yet except to concede it has "subplots which are not resolved" in each episode.

The other two are "Men Against Evil," a police action drama with Howard Duff, Jeanne Crain and Ben Alexander, and "Them Monroes," a Western about a family of parentless children, starring Michael Anderson Jr.

National Educational Television (NET) announced that its "At Issue" series is readying as assessment of this season's network entertainments to be shown on the nation's 102 NET stations next February.

The hour-long program will include criticism of documentary and public affairs programming on educational TV as well as on the commercial chains, NET reported.

Among participants in the program will be Rod Serling, creator of "Twilight Zone" and "The Loner" and president of the TV academy; Terence O'Flaherty, San Francisco TV columnist, and Harry Skornia, University of Illinois professor and author of the book, "Television and Society."

HARRY MORGAN, former co-star of "Pete and Gladys," a CBS comedy series, and night club comedian Shecky Greene have been signed to play the leads in a Universal TV comedy plot, "Kelly's Kingdom," to be filmed for CBS.

Sheriff Says Raid Ordered Despite Aide

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sheriff James J. McGettrick said he had to second guess his former executive officer John Kocevar to shut down an alleged house of prostitution in suburban Oakwood last April, the Plain Dealer reported today in a copyrighted story.

The newspaper said the sheriff gave an official accounting of the closing Sunday in response to a story the paper carried in its Sunday editions.

That story said two sheriff's deputies closed down the house after another team of sheriff's investigators reported after six days of surveillance that the house was not being used as a prostitution center. No arrests were made, the Plain Dealer said.

The Plain Dealer said the sheriff explained that at the time the original complaint about the house came in he had just got his wife out of the hospital and he took her to Florida on the suggestion of her doctor. McGettrick said he turned the complaint over to Kocevar and told him to assign deputies to take care of it, the Plain Dealer reported.

When he returned from Florida he read the report of the investigating team, but was not satisfied with it and sent two other deputies to the house with orders to close it, the sheriff said.

Kocevar, who resigned last Friday as executive officer in the sheriff's department, could not be reached for comment.

Cuban Resettlement Due To Hit 800 A Week Pace

MIAMI (AP) — About 800 Cuban refugees will be added to the U.S. population every week starting Wednesday and possibly continuing for years. From Miami, they will scatter throughout the nation.

The Cuban Refugee Center, which will coordinate the vast distribution program, will steer refugees to relatives who preceded them.

Otherwise, the program shapes up largely as a speedup of resettlement that since 1961 has sent nearly 100,000 exiles to more than 2,000 cities in the 50 states, a center spokesman said.

"Under a change of procedure, resettlement now will be largely on a relative-to-relative basis," said Marshal Wise, director of the government-operated center. "Cubans will look for jobs in areas where they have relatives."

That means populous areas such as New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, where refugees already are concentrated, will receive more, a center spokesman said. It does not mean, however, that points now without a Cuban population will be left out.

A community wishing to attract refugees, or employers with job openings for some, should contact a church in their hometown or the refugee center in Miami, or both, the spokesman said. Most churches are prepared to relay the requests to settlement agencies, he said.

Under the new phase of the migration movement, relatives of Cubans already in the United States will be flown from Varadero, Cuba, to Miami. There will be nine flights weekly, with Uncle Sam paying the fares.

Applications for evacuation of 174,000 persons from Cuba have been received by the refugee center from 85,190 relatives in this country. It would take more than four years to bring that number here at the rate of 800 weekly. The U.S. and Cuban governments must pass on the applications.

Salineville Area Man Hurt On Power Saw

Two children also were treated at the hospital Sunday. Bruce Edgell, 12, son of William Edgell of Calcutta, suffered a puncture wound of the right foot when he stepped on a nail.

Randy Darnell, 4, son of Don Curran of the Y. & O. Rd., suffered a laceration in the middle of his forehead when he fell from a bicycle.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 30, 1965.
AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE TRANSFER OF REAL PROPERTY FROM GARBAGE DEPARTMENT TO PUBLIC PARKS DEPARTMENT FOR PARK PURPOSES.
WHEREAS, the City of East Liverpool purchased certain lands in St. Clair Township from Garbage Funds for use as a sanitary land fill site, and
WHEREAS, part of said land so purchased is no longer needed or satisfactory for said use, and this Council has determined that said land should be made available for recreational purposes as part of the public park system of the said City, and
WHEREAS, in the transfer of said property from land fill purposes to park purposes it is required by statute to reimburse the Garbage Fund from the General Fund for the true value of said property so transferred;
NOW, THEREFORE,
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:
SECTION 1. That the following property be transferred from the Garbage and Trash Department to the Public Parks Division of this City, and is hereby made a part of said public park system of the City of East Liverpool and shall be used for public park purposes:
Situated in the State of Ohio, County of Columbiana, and Township of St. Clair, and known as and being Lots numbered 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24, and adjoining vacated streets, located in Bloomfield Addition, in Section 28 of said Township.
SECTION 2. That said transfer shall be effective upon payment from the General Fund - Public Parks Division of the Service Department, to the General Fund, in the amount of Four Thousand Dollars ($4,000.00), which is considered to be the true value of the premises herein described.
SECTION 3. That this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.
Passed this 15th day of November, 1965.

10,000 Delegates Due At Farmer Convention

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The first of about 10,000 delegates from 25 states began arriving in St. Louis Sunday for the National Farmers Organization convention Wednesday and Thursday.

Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., NFO president, said the delegates will hear a report on the organization's progress in collective bargaining for dairy, grain and meat products in the last year, and plans for a nationwide marketing bargaining structure for members.

3 Students Help Officer Attacked By Irate Driver

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three University of Cincinnati freshmen who went to the aid of a seriously injured policeman and then captured his attacker are to be honored by the Police Department.

Chief Stanley R. Schrotel said the students, Robert Wilson and Ed Panasewicz, both of Newcastle, Pa., and Thomas DiVecchia, Scranton, Pa., all 18, will receive written commendations.

Schrotel, noting that many persons refuse to offer aid because they don't want to get involved, said "the spontaneous response of these three fine students in a vigorous demonstration of their support of law and order."

The students went to the aid of Patrolman William Beahr, 36, who had stopped a motorist Saturday night for going 40 miles per hour in a 30 mph zone, the chief said. The motorist was identified as Earl Curry, 26, Cincinnati.

Police said Curry became aggressive when Beahr attempted to give him a ticket. Officers said the patrolman was knocked to the ground and hit his head on the pavement.

The students were walking nearby and saw what was happening, Schrotel said. They grabbed Curry and held him until additional police arrived, he added.

Beahr suffered a concussion and amnesia and remained in serious condition in General Hospital. Curry was charged with speeding, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

Practice Run Staged By Fire Department

Firemen from the five volunteer fire companies in northern Hancock County participated in a practice run to Oak Glen High School about 3 p. m. Sunday.

The drill, sponsored by the United Hancock County Firefighters Association, was directed by John Pittenger, chief of the Pughtown department. The special runs were conducted to determine how quickly fire companies could arrive at the school in case of an emergency.

The Pughtown company, located closest to the school, arrived in 4½ minutes; the Chester department, 14 minutes; Newell, the furthest distance away, 18 minutes; Lawrenceville, 15 minutes, and New Cumberland 14 minutes.

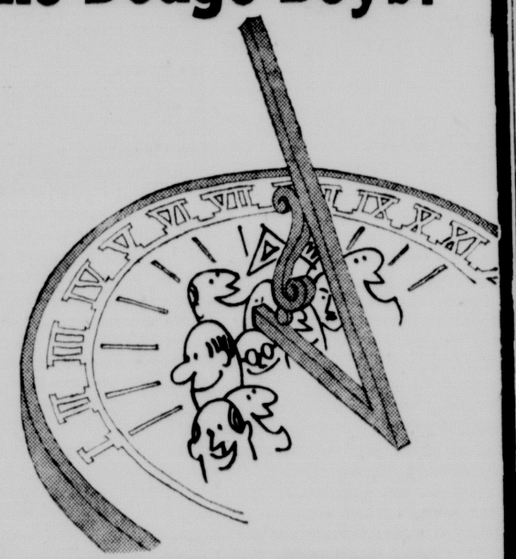
Isn't it time you see for yourself why new car buyers like the Dodge Boys?



TEST DRIVE THE '66 MONACO AND YOU'LL JOIN THE DODGE REBELLION. IT'S GUARANTEED* TO DRIVE YOU HAPPY!

THE DODGE BOYS

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1966 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings.

REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Junior Editors Quiz on VOLCANOES

QUESTION: How are volcanoes formed, and are there any in the U.S.A.?

ANSWER: A volcano is formed around an opening in Earth's crust which reaches down to where there is hot, melted rock called magma. Gases in the magma expand and exert tremendous pressure. Since the gases can't go down or sideways, they push up. When they find weak spots in Earth's crust, they blow violently out, hurling molten rock into the air. Cooling, this turns to lava and is dropped to the sides; so, a cone is built up, such as the one at upper left. Volcanoes may relieve the pressures below and cool down or they may go on erupting. Most of them are located in belts close to mountain ranges where there is weakness in Earth's crust. Our map shows one such chain. Notice that the map locates three important active volcanoes in U.S. territory; Katmai in Alaska (shown erupting up upper picture), Lassen in California, and Kilalauea in Hawaii, lying on the slopes of Mauna Loa, another volcano which erupts occasionally. Our artist has illustrated an old Hawaiian legend that Pele, goddess of fire, sometimes bursts out of Kilalauea in the guise of a young woman with blazing red hair, hurling rocks and smoke in all directions.

California Girl Found As Thai Orphans Aide

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A news dispatch from the United States and a newsman's memory reunited a worried American mother and her runaway 16-year-old daughter in Bangkok today.

The girl, Mary Wilson, had slipped away from the Encino, Calif., home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. George Wilson, on Nov. 19. They believed she had gone to Bangkok to work for an orphanage.

Mrs. Wilson arrived in Bangkok early today to try to pick up her daughter's trail. Meanwhile, Alan Darby, a newsman at the English-language Bangkok Post read an Associated Press dispatch about the girl's disappearance and recalled a recent article about the Pierra Foundation, a Bangkok orphanage.

Darby called the orphanage and learned that Mary had been working there for a week. He called the U.S. Embassy, by chance found Mrs. Wilson there and told the embassy where Mary was.

"I'm so thankful that she's safe and sound," said Mrs. Wilson after the reunion with her daughter. "She's a do-gooder and rather religious girl."

Two friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Shope, whisked the pair off to their home and refused to allow newsmen to see them.

"They're both distraught and need some rest and quiet," said Mrs. Shope.

Mrs. Wilson and Mary are expected to remain in Bangkok several days before returning to California.

"Thank God she's safe," said Dr. Wilson in Encino. "I prayed she would be all right."

Mary, a brown-haired, brown-eyed high school senior, disappeared Nov. 19 after telling her parents she was going to a girl friend's home after school and would not be back until late. She took a suitcase with her.

Shortly after midnight, the Wilsons called the girl friend's home only to discover that Mary had not visited there, nor had she attended school that day.

After questioning her friends, the Wilsons learned from a travel agency that the girl had made inquiries last May about flying to Cambodia.

Other clues included a duplicate from the credit card purchase of tickets to Bangkok and a passport application showing Mary had used her older sister's birth certificate to get a passport.

Then a letter and a cable arrived from Tokyo, adding to the mystery.

In the letter, Wilson said Mary apologized for using her mother's credit card and promised to repay her mother from her earnings as an orphanage worker.

The cable, signed simply "Mary," told the Wilsons she was returning and not to worry.

Crashes Kill 33 Over Ohio On Weekend

Traffic	33
Fires	2
Miscellaneous	3
Total	38

By The Associated Press

The state's annual traffic toll in recent years has run to approximately 2,000. That figures to about 40 a week.

So the holiday period, Wednesday night through Sunday night, actually made litte difference.

A look at the fatalities bears this out. Most fatal vehicle crashes were in the victims' home counties or adjoining counties.

Adding to the holiday tragedy were five deaths in other types of accidents. Two were in home fires. A drowning and a gun fatality happened in or near the homes of those killed. A coal miner perished at work.

The latest fatalities:

Saturday

Nick Ruggiero, Cleveland, struck by a car as he was about to enter his parked auto in Cleveland.

Green Howard, 65, Dennison, in a rock fall at Tappan Lake Coal Co. mine near Tappan Lake, Tuscarawas County, where he was a foreman.

Charles Anthony, 65, Mineral Ridge, Trumbull County, when he fell against the side of a car as he walked near his home.

James D. Perkins, 7, Cincinnati, drowned when he toppled into a apartment house swimming pool in Cincinnati trying to help another boy who made it out of the pool partly filled by heavy rains.

Charles Wilson, 24, basketball coach at Southeast High School in Portage County; his assistant, William G. Whitten, 23, and Howard Michael, 33, all of New Milford, in a head-on auto collision on Ohio 225 southeast of Ravenna.

Sunday

Ethel Ryan, 70; Mabel Gill, 62, and Minnie Nehrenz, 70, widows who lived in the same Cleveland apartments, when their auto collided with another at the U. S. 6-Ohio 86 intersection east of Chardon.

Derrick Hastings, 6, Dayton, hit by a car as he ran into the street near his home.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A news dispatch from the United States and a newsman's memory reunited a worried American mother and her runaway 16-year-old daughter in Bangkok today.

The girl, Mary Wilson, had slipped away from the Encino, Calif., home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. George Wilson, on Nov. 19. They believed she had gone to Bangkok to work for an orphanage.

Mrs. Wilson arrived in Bangkok early today to try to pick up her daughter's trail. Meanwhile, Alan Darby, a newsman at the English-language Bangkok Post read an Associated Press dispatch about the girl's disappearance and recalled a recent article about the Pierra Foundation, a Bangkok orphanage.

Darby called the orphanage and learned that Mary had been working there for a week. He called the U.S. Embassy, by chance found Mrs. Wilson there and told the embassy where Mary was.

"I'm so thankful that she's safe and sound," said Mrs. Wilson after the reunion with her daughter. "She's a do-gooder and rather religious girl."

Two friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Shope, whisked the pair off to their home and refused to allow newsmen to see them.

"They're both distraught and need some rest and quiet," said Mrs. Shope.

Mrs. Wilson and Mary are expected to remain in Bangkok several days before returning to California.

A spokesman at the Pierra Foundation said Mary came to the institute last Tuesday inquiring about adoption of a child.

She was asked to wait until an official of the foundation could be located but left before the official arrived.

Newsmen could not contact Dr. Pierra immediately today.

The foundation cares for about 80 orphans.

"Thank God she's safe," said Dr. Wilson in Encino. "I prayed she would be all right."

Mary, a brown-haired, brown-eyed high school senior, disappeared Nov. 19 after telling her parents she was going to a girl friend's home after school and would not be back until late. She took a suitcase with her.

Shortly after midnight, the Wilsons called the girl friend's home only to discover that Mary had not visited there, nor had she attended school that day.

After questioning her friends, the Wilsons learned from a travel agency that the girl had made inquiries last May about flying to Cambodia.

Other clues included a duplicate from the credit card purchase of tickets to Bangkok and a passport application showing Mary had used her older sister's birth certificate to get a passport.

Then a letter and a cable arrived from Tokyo, adding to the mystery.

In the letter, Wilson said Mary apologized for using her mother's credit card and promised to repay her mother from her earnings as an orphanage worker.

The cable, signed simply "Mary," told the Wilsons she was returning and not to worry.

Crashes Kill 33 Over Ohio On Weekend

Traffic	33
Fires	2
Miscellaneous	3
Total	38

By The Associated Press

Ohio motorists contributed heavily—with at least 33 lives—to the nation's record Thanksgiving weekend traffic toll.

Yet, statewide, the toll was not much above that of an average similar period of 102 hours, week in and week out.

The state's annual traffic toll in recent years has run to approximately 2,000. That figures to about 40 a week.

So the holiday period, Wednesday night through Sunday night, actually made litte difference.

A look at the fatalities bears this out. Most fatal vehicle crashes were in the victims' home counties or adjoining counties.

Adding to the holiday tragedy were five deaths in other types of accidents. Two were in home fires. A drowning and a gun fatality happened in or near the homes of those killed. A coal miner perished at work.

The latest fatalities:

Saturday

Nick Ruggiero, Cleveland, struck by a car as he was about to enter his parked auto in Cleveland.

Green Howard, 65, Dennison, in a rock fall at Tappan Lake Coal Co. mine near Tappan Lake, Tuscarawas County, where he was a foreman.

Charles Anthony, 65, Mineral Ridge, Trumbull County, when he fell against the side of a car as he walked near his home.

James D. Perkins, 7, Cincinnati, drowned when he toppled into a apartment house swimming pool in Cincinnati trying to help another boy who made it out of the pool partly filled by heavy rains.

Mary Ellis, 11, Portsmouth, shot by the accidental discharge of the shotgun her brother, 14, was carrying in their home.

Charles Wilson, 24, basketball coach at Southeast High School in Portage County; his assistant, William G. Whitten, 23, and Howard Michael, 33, all of New Milford, in a head-on auto collision on Ohio 225 southeast of Ravenna.

Sunday

Ethel Ryan, 70; Mabel Gill, 62, and Minnie Nehrenz, 70, widows who lived in the same Cleveland apartments, when their auto collided with another at the U. S. 6-Ohio 86 intersection east of Chardon.

Derrick Hastings, 6, Dayton, hit by a car as he ran into the street near his home.
